AS SUMMER days rapidly draw to a close these sleek four-footed friends are turned out to pasture after a long day's ride by Misses Phyllis Carvalho (left) and Carol Pakka. It's back to school for the girls and back to the grazing lands for the horses.

Search Continues for Most Unusual Commuter

All right, you commuters, come on out of hiding. We know you're there, because we see you on the highway each morning.

So why not join the crowd and join The Sun's Commuter Olympics and win yourself a free bottle of aspirin (large or small) and/or a ride in a helicopter.

If you haven't commuted to work on a unicycle, or driven 122 miles each day to and from work, or been commuting six days a week since 1938, then you haven't suffered, because that is what some of the people in our area do.

ALL HAVE entered their names in The Sun's Commuter Olympics, dedicated to find those sufferers among us who have traveled for the longest time, the longest distance, and in the most unusual way in their pursuit of their occupation.

The commuter is considered their backbone of the community in Central Contra Costa County, for we are, indeed, what is termed a "bedroom community."

And so, to give the wearied commuter his due, The Sun is honoring this sport by asking all commuters to enter The Sun's Commuter Olympics.

HERE ARE the categories—and those who have already entered the lists:

1. Do you believe that your daily commute is probably the longest of anyone in the area?

Al Coggins, 1562 Springbrook Road, Walnut Creek, does. He commutes each day to Cotati and back . . . a total distance of 122 miles. He has been doing this for two months now, and intends to keep it up for at least a year or two more.

He leaves home each morning at 5:30 a.m. (maybe six on a late morning), and arrives home again 12 or 13 hours later.

THE EVENTUAL winner of this category will be awarded a king-size bottle of vitamins!

2. Do you believe your commute (daily) is probably the shortest of anyone in the area?

If so, you will qualify for an award . . . a small bottle of vitamins. There's a catch, though. You have to commute somewhere west of the Broadway Tunnel to qualify. So far, no takers.

3. Do you think that perhaps your means of transportation during your commute is unusual?

If so, you will be treated to a free helicopter ride.

Richard Rickson, 39 Novo Court, Walnut Creek, thinks his is, and he has a point.

HE RIDES a unicycle to his bus stop each morning at North Main Street and San Luis Avenue.

He just leaves his unicycle at a gas station, where it is hung on a hook, and picks it up on his return.

Of course, purists will scoff and say that Rickson doesn't actually commute on his unicycle . . . just rides it to the bus stop.

Nevertheless, until a more unusual means of transportation comes along, he's got his name on the roster.

4. Do you think that you have been commuting longer than any other person in the area?

IF SO, YOU'LL be awarded a free helicopter ride also.

Anthony Vallerino, 1740 San Luis Road, Walnut Creek, feels that he has a chance in this category because he called to say that he has been commuting regularly for six days a week begin their back to school activities Tuesday.

All new teachers to the district meet with district personnel and tour the Acalanes District area.

A LUNCHEON will be held at the Acalanes Cafeteria after which the new teachers will report for orientation programs at their respective schools.

All certified personnel will meet

Teenage Drinking Party May Have Solved Burglaries

An investigation of a noisy party in Lafayette may have solved numerous minor burglaries that have taken place in the area during the past few months.

Deputies Clifford Clark and Thaddeus Ormes were dispatched to 3343 St. Mary's Road following a complaint about a loud gathering which turned out to be a teenage drinking party.

When the deputies arrived on the scene about 15 youths ran into the hills behind the house.

THE DEPUTIES discovered 20 tires and wheels, hub caps, generators, starters, distributors, a gas engine, a lawnmower, a metal lathe, drill press, grinder, cutting torches and hoses in the garage.

In the house itself, they found many cartons of cigarettes, several six-packs of beers, rifle shells, a go-cart, swim floats and other items in a closet.

The deputies questioned two intoxicated boys found in the backyard, concerning the persons who lived in the house.

They were told that two teenage boys rented the house, but they had run off with the others. Deputies still have not been able to contact the two occupants.

Judy Allen Leads Fairyland Tour

Judy Allen, 8, 118 Scenic Drive, Orinda, the queen of Fairyland, joined story book characters Wednesday to lead children "through the looking glass."

The "Alice in Wonderland" theme was reflected during the second night opening of the children's enchanting spot in Oakland.

Special features and new animals were "unveiled" during the evening for the children who made the excursion through the park.

Boys and Girls Earning Bikes by Selling Suns!

Kids everywhere are selling 10 subscriptions to The Sun, and right now are receiving their new bikes!

Here is a partial list for the last few days:

Chris Ballard, age 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ballard of 3105 Ida Drive, Concord; student at Holbrook School.

JIMMY Williams, age 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Williams, 187 Canon Drive, Orinda, fourth grader at Orinda School.

Becky Ross, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ross, 1379 Nicholas Drive, Concord.

Boys and girls in your neighborhood can do it too! The deadline to enter has been extended to September 15!

To earn a bike worth $36.87 in retail stores, you need only sell 10 one-year subscriptions to The Sun or Pleasant Hill Sun, or any combination of them.

THIS IS not a contest, and you need only make your sales to earn the bike.

Supervisors Adopt Budget Tax Rate Up 2.3 Cents

County supervisors Tuesday approved a $42,770,893 budget for 1961-62 involving a tax increase of 2.3 cents—but only over objections of two supervisors who said the budget is too small.

The vote, calling for a $2.35 tax rate, was passed 3-2, with Supervisors Mel Nielsen of Lafayette and Joseph Silva of Brentwood, board chairman, dissenting.

This was the first time in many years that the accepted budget did not get a unanimous vote.

THE ACTUAL basic tax rate for 1961-62, some $2.195, is three mills less than last year ($2.198), but the new library services boosted the final tax rate total.

The 12.9-cent library tax rate for last year was raised to 15.5 cents this year.

This additional money will go for staff salaries, books and other supplies for eight new library branches in the county.

The libraries were all built under an agreement whereby the county would provide staff services and supplies.

THE ADDED library tax does not apply in Richmond since that city has its own library system.

Nielsen, in voting against the budget, said, " . . . it does not give the people of our county the services they want or expect from their elected officials."

He added that money has been taken away from various projects, which will result in severe curtailment of services.

And he added that the county will still get the blame for the high taxes resulting from the special districts, schools and cities, which amount, he said, to 75 per cent of the total tax bill.

NIELSEN continued, "County government should wake up and take care of our own problems and give the people here economical service and the services they have come to expect."

He said most of the taxpayer complaints center about the lack of services and incomplete projects which have been delayed from year to year.

He added that it would be worth raising the tax rate by 5 or 10 cents in order to provide the needed additional services.

And he added that if taxpayers are worried about the tax bill this year, they will face a shock next year, when some $1,500,000 in salary raises are contemplated.

"THAT WILL be a doozy," he declared.

Supervisor Tom Coll replied that he believes the county is offering the services, even with the smaller increase in tax rate. Supervisor Edmund Linscheid

Three County Bond Issues Are Planned

County supervisors Tuesday approved a resolution declaring their intention to place bond proposals before the voters, pertaining to new road construction, public building construction and park site acquisition.

The three phases will be submitted separately and will be voted separately.

County administrator has suggested $25 million for the roads, with $17,200,000 of this going for the county and $7,800,000 going to the cities.

The public building program will run about $5 million, with the emphasis on law enforcement, rehabilitation services, health, hospital and public works.

Not included in this program is the proposed $3 million county administration building which will be financed by county employee retirement funds.

The park site acquisition program calls for $5 million, and the sites will be located in many areas of the county.

The supervisors Tuesday did not go into specifics, as to the election date or the exact amounts to be asked.

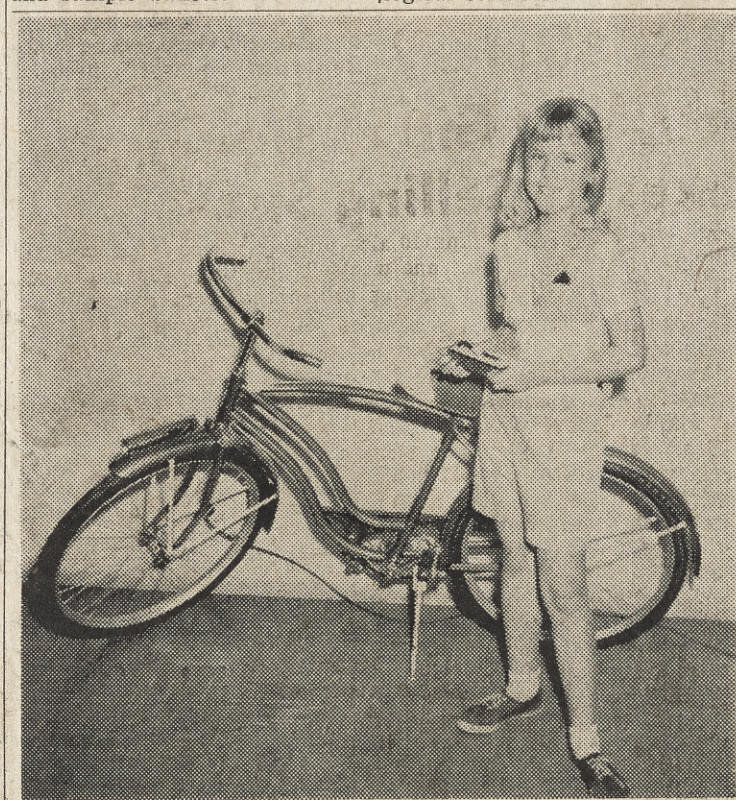

The main concern then was the proposed elimination of a 180-acre park and cultural center site at the edge of Diablo Valley College in the Pleasant Hill area.

The 180-acre site was supported by representatives of the county park and recreation council and the Pleasant Hill Park and Recreation District, in which area the park would be located.

D. P. Davis Takes Active Duty Stint

First Lt. D. P. Davis, who is employed at California Research Corporation, and lives in Orinda, has arrived for two weeks of active duty training at the Sixth Army Scientific seminar being conducted at the Davis Campus of the University of California.

The theme of this seminar is Basic Research and Military Technological Development. This will include symposiums on selected subjects involving basic research in the physical and biological sciences.

BECKY ROSS is the second youngster to earn a bike by selling 10 subscriptions to any of the four Sun Newspapers. Becky sold 15 subscriptions so she also earned a wristwatch, which she gave to a sister for her birthday. Becky, 10, is a fifth-grader at Cambridge School. She lives at 1379 Nicholas Drive, Concord.

Engineer Shows Board Subdivision Plan Map

"When and if we ever have a plan for the planning commission, I will let you know," said Frank W. Draeger, of Wilson and Company, to The Sun.

Wilson and Company is an engineering firm with offices in Oakland.

Draeger recently spoke to the board of directors of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association in Orinda about a proposed plan for some 300 homes on a 370-acre plot on the Lindsay property between Sleepy Hollow and Happy Valley.

A map showing the subdivision plan was presented also to the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association by Draeger.

The immediate concern of the board of directors was the potential traffic problem.

The only present access roads to the former EBMUD property are Lombardy Lane and Happy Valley Road.

A PORTION of the proposed development bounds on Sleepy Hollow and Happy Valley.

An extension of Lombardy Lane would serve the 370-acre area.

Percy Dawson, president of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association, said the association would act on the proposal "when something more concrete is presented."

Boone Robinson, a Sleepy Hollow resident and a county planning commission member, said "I understand Wilson and Company intends to file a plot map for 300 building sites on some 370 acres with the county planning commission immediately."

Board Will Act On Duffel-Smoother Issue Next Month

September 21 the county board of supervisors will grant or deny rezoning to Duffel and Smoot, Orinda builders.

The supervisors will take a field trip to the site prior to their decision.

Duffel and Smoot request rezoning from transition residential agricultural to multiple family residential.

THE AREA involved is located in Encinas de Moraga fronting on Camino Encinas in the Orinda area.

Orinda Association sent the board of supervisors a letter, dated August 15, opposing the rezoning of the property.

According to the Orinda Association, a planning commission meeting held April 4 failed to demonstrate the need for multiple-family housing in Orinda.

"Orinda should be given the opportunity to evaluate the impact of multiple-family housing, as provided by the so-called 'Underwood property,' before any decision is made to make additional land available for this use."

Dr. Ben Gaynor Gives Paper On Research

Dr. Ben Gaynor, Orinda optometrist, will present a scientific discussion-paper at the 17th annual Santa Clara County Vision Training Workshop, to be held at the Hyatt House, San Jose, from today through Sunday.

The paper will be based on a study made by Dr. Gaynor in the Mt. Diablo School District on the relationship of school children's achievements to visual test findings.

Dr. Gaynor is director of education for the Alameda-Contra Costa Counties Optometric Society. The workshop will draw optometric attendance from the Bay Area counties.

HOWEVER, Robinson remarked, the proposed development is not in any sanitary or school district.

With the two present access roads, all the traffic would be channeled through Lombardy Lane and Happy Valley Road.

According to Robinson, there is also a drainage problem in the potential development.

The creek that goes from the property also goes through Sleepy Hollow and along Miner Road.

AS IT becomes rather full sometimes, "we must be assured there will be no downstream flooding as a result of construction on the property," Robinson stated.

The property is now zoned agricultural. The general plan for Orinda specifies half acre minimums.

Planning Commission member Robinson understands the developers want a portion of the lots one acre and the rest a half acre, but that all will be a full half acre with no "averaging out."

Teamsters Strike Hits Ready-Mix

Construction projects in Contra Costa and Alameda Counties and perhaps other neighboring counties, are faced with schedule delays if they will require ready-mix concrete before completion.

Oakland Teamster Local 70 and ready-mix cement employers have not reached an agreement on a new contract despite protracted discussions at the Claremont Hotel.

The strike is headed towards its third week.

Idled by the strike are about 600 teamster-affiliated drivers and warehousemen in Alameda and Contra Costa, affecting some 5,000 building tradesmen who have been laid off because of materials shortages.

The strike, started by Teamsters Local 70, is independent of other Bay Area teamster locals, where a 34 to 40-cent package increase in wages and fringe benefits has been agreed upon.

Under those settlements, daily wages for lumber stackers and carriers will be $27.92, and for truck drivers, $26.92 by 1963.

T. W. Thompson, secretary of Teamsters Local 315, Martinez, said that the dispute as it applies to Contra Costa is considered a lock-out, not a strike.

Labor Day Will Bring Early Class Deadlines

Next weekend brings us a Labor Day holiday, and consequently this means changes in the Sun classified ad deadline.

The regular deadline for classified ads, which is Tuesday at 10 a.m., will be retained as will the deadline for too late to classify ads, which is Tuesday at noon.

However, the deadline for cancelling classified ads will be Saturday at 4 p.m.

However, in order to avoid a last minute rush on Tuesday, it would be wise to place your classified ad early if you can.

Regular classified ad deadlines will be resumed the week following Labor Day.

Registration Is Next Week for Acalanes District

Students new to the Acalanes High School District will register at the high school in their residential area next Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 1 to 4 in the afternoon.

Registrations may not be made the first day of school, September 5.

Teachers in the district will begin their back to school activities Tuesday.

All new teachers to the district meet with district personnel and tour the Acalanes District area.

A LUNCHEON will be held at the Acalanes Cafeteria after which the new teachers will report for orientation programs at their respective schools.

All certified personnel will meet

Wednesday at Miramonte for a district-wide back-to-school "kick-off."

George Mardikian, famous author and San Francisco restaurateur, will speak.

A resume of district activities and objections will be given by superintendent Neil M. Parsons and members of the administrative staff.

TEACHERS will meet at their own schools in the afternoon.

On Thursday, faculty members will participate in district subject area workshops.

Friday will be devoted to department meetings at each school and preparations for opening school.

Ninth graders in the district will attend "Frosh Day" activities at their schools next Friday at 2 p.m.

FRESHMEN will participate in general orientation programs which include reviewing scholastic schedules for the coming year, completing administrative routines and getting acquainted with school facilities, members of the faculty and student officers.

Parents of students who will be attending the new Acalanes District class in special education for students with varying degrees of handicaps will meet Tuesday at Del Valle High School.

The class will be taught by Mrs. Mary Wallin, formerly a teacher in special education with the Mt. Diablo Unified District.

Mrs. Wallin has worked in the special education field for the past

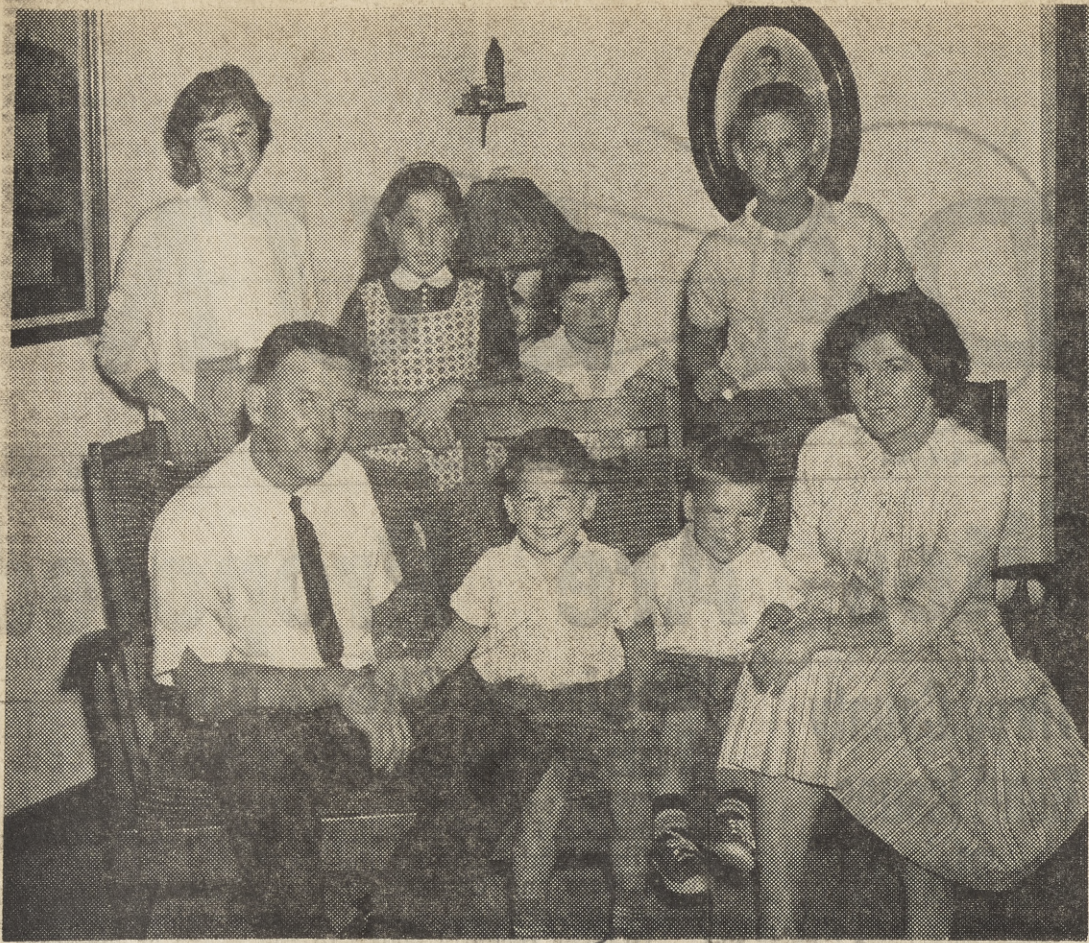

16 years and is currently studying for her doctorate in special education at the University of the Pacific, Stockton.

PARENTS attending Tuesday's meeting will confer with Mrs. Wallin, Leland Russell, Acalanes District assistant superintendent for instruction, and William Ross, Del Valle principal.

The special education program being initiated by the Acalanes District is paid for by state allowances and district funds.

Students requiring special education services from the Acalanes area have previously attended classes in other districts on a contract basis.

Family of the Week

IRISH EYES are smiling all over the place when the Andrew O'Brien family are together at their home on Pake Lane. Standing between parents Andy and Peggy are the couple's 3-year-old twins, Tom and Bob. Another county to be heard from (in the rear) are Chris, 13; Cathy, 9; Colleen, 7, and Jim, 12 (a fine bro of a boy who plays baseball with the Huestead's team). Family and church go hand in hand in this household with Andy instructing the altar boys at Santa Maria Church and Peggy serving as spiritual director of the Santa Maria Mother's Club and Women's Club, the latter of which she is a past president. Peg was last semester's health chairman for the Orinda School District and Andy, who works for John Bruener Co., serves with Boy Scouts, is a past Cubmaster. Both O'Briens have that rare distinction—Native Bay Areans!

Hats Off To...

Charles Langridge, Pres. Fire Commissioners

Clang the bells of an old fashioned firewagon in honor of Charles Langridge, president of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Orinda Fire District.

Under his regime, as administrative head of the Orinda Fire Department, the district's tax rate will be reduced by approximately 18 cents; the fire department has operated efficiently during a record scorching summer.

AS A FIRE commissioner for the past 10 years, Langridge thrives on his appointed honorary duties and refers to his fellow commissioners as "fine business men who work harmoniously well together."

Since his retirement in 1960 from Standard Oil (he was office manager for 43 years) Native Son Langridge has "never had so much fun." With wife Katherine, he maintains a home on Moraga Way where "I do the digging. She does the planting" and when time affords, they prefer to tour and travel, sightseeing America. Next year's plans call for a trip to the 49th State—Hawaii!

Soil Scientist's Family Has Varied Interests

Everybody in the Milton Weiner family of 56 Dolores Way is busy; busy with an enthusiasm for living that leads to many interests and skills.

Deborah, the Weiners' 12-year-old daughter, will be an eighth grade student at Inland Valley School this fall. Debbie was active last year in the Girls' Athletic Association, vice president of her class, an honor student and member of the school chorus.

PRESENTLY she is an active member of the St. Moritz Skating Club.

Her brother, Stephen, who is nine, will enter Del Rey's fifth grade in September. Steve, according to his dad, "has a strong and growing conviction that the road to personal happiness and achievement is professional sports."

He was a member of the Peanut League's Bombers this summer, and also has the distinction of a personal invitation to the Saints basketball game from Coach Phil Woolpert. He has responded with Roy Campanella, Wally Moon and the mayor of Sitka, Alaska.

"He is completely uninhibited in his approach in contacting those who might be in a position to help him break into pro sports," said his father.

MOTHER of these two lively youngsters is Mrs. Edith Rhoades Weiner. Mrs. Weiner is a graduate of Bryn Mawr College, attended the University of Chicago and the University of California School of Social Welfare from which she received her master's degree.

Mrs. Weiner is presently a member of the staff of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Weiner, a soil scientist, graduated with an A.B. degree in history, Long Island University. He attended graduate school at Harvard and the University of California at Berkeley and Davis, earning his B.S. degree in soil science.

WEINER, who lived with his family in the Bakersfield area for a number of years, is profoundly concerned over the withdrawal of California cropland from agricultural operations.

He is presently a consultant to a number of laboratories active in the field of soil, water and plant tissue analysis and general growers and organizations with service to landscape architects, turfgrass areas. A number of these labs are involved in agricultural work abroad.

During his interview with The Sun, Weiner said, "As a low echelon soil scientist, I have had the opportunity to watch a flood of concrete and asphalt cover one fruitful and productive valley in California after another. Misfortune is a more appropriate term than opportunity this instance."

During his interview with The Sun, Weiner said, "As a low echelon soil scientist, I have had the opportunity to watch a flood of concrete and asphalt cover one fruitful and productive valley in California after another. Misfortune is a more appropriate term than opportunity this instance."

He is presently a consultant to a number of laboratories active in the field of soil, water and plant tissue analysis and general growers and organizations with service to landscape architects, turfgrass areas. A number of these labs are involved in agricultural work abroad.

During his interview with The Sun, Weiner said, "As a low echelon soil scientist, I have had the opportunity to watch a flood of concrete and asphalt cover one fruitful and productive valley in California after another. Misfortune is a more appropriate term than opportunity this instance."

involved new environmental conditions, new irrigation problems, and increased costs.

"As the crops are driven out of the warm valleys of our best production areas, they will have to climb the hillsides; not that these are not already pre-empted by vineyards and orchards.

"Our deserts that need water in many cases to bear crops are being staked out by speculators, or covered with shacks, so that such places as the Yucca Valley have become desert slums.

"The citrus ranchers from the Los Angeles area and Orange County who are fleeing north of the Tehachapis to Bakersfield, Delano and Porterville, are but re-enacting the destruction of the citrus cropland of Florida.

"There is an end in sight to the flow from our horn of plenty.

"REMOVE Florida and California effectively from our agricultural statistics and we have moved well on the way to a haven of fruit and vegetable basket.

"What is insidiously misleading are the current production figures. These are euphorically upcurved. This is in part due to better fertilization, and the knowledge that we apply as it flows from universities and the agricultural research stations the U.S.D.A. maintains at places like Beltsville, Maryland. Improved irrigation programs and insecticides with a wallop also help push productivity higher.

"Genetics and all the listed tricks and achievements of scientific infighting can do more and more of less and less—up to that point where the soil vanishes under a forest of antennae.

"At the same time, history, 'SYNTHESIS' in the kitchen as a way of life is already beyond stopping. The road to nutrition has no turning around. In restaurants, it is conceivable the chef as we know him will no longer reign supreme over a gourmet dish. Gourmet chefs will probably supplant them. Because, while some items like beef may remain plentiful, because of feeder lot programs, the fields will yield only cities and freeways.

"It is estimated by sources concerned with these matters that of California's three million acres of class 1 cropland, roughly one million has been urbanized. The largest urban areas are located mainly in cropland areas.

"It is estimated that from an original 16 million arable acres (approximation) about two and a half million has already been lost.

"By 1975, there will not be an overall change in the cropland picture, generally, yet the significant fact is that the cropland being developed is less favorable for agriculture than the land being urbanized.

"One authoritative estimate is that one hundred thousand acres a year until 1975 will be urbanized."

Weiner served with the Dixie Division (31st) in World War II as a scout, Battalion S-2 Section, in New Guinea and the Netherlands East Indies. He received the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star Medal and the Combat Infantry Badge.

CLEMONS is MSTs Pacific Area management engineer and has been in federal service 21 years.

The Military Sea Transportation Service is the ocean shipping agency for the Department of Defense and provides sea transportation for the Army, Navy, Air Force and other government agencies when sponsored by the Department of Defense.

Orinda Joins 'Operation Tinderbox'

Orinda is the latest Contra Costa community to join "Operation Tinderbox."

This project was started by West Contra Costa fire departments to fight any major blaze in undeveloped areas of the county.

The program was instigated by the many fires in grass and brush land in all parts of the county.

Purpose of the program is to assemble a sufficient force to combat fire in any area or district without hampering operations in other areas of protection.

Lower Classmen Girls Can Join Mariner Scouts

Applications for membership in the Orinda Girl Scout Senior Mariner Ship, The Dreadnaught, should now be made by calling either Cathie Oliphant, navigator, CL 4-2228 or skipper, Mrs. Edward de Laveaga, CL 4-3745.

All girls in the ninth or tenth grade at Miramonte High School are eligible and no previous Girl Scout experience is necessary.

The group meets each Monday night at 7:30 at the Scout Hut in Orinda and specializes in all waterfront activities, swimming, canoeing, sailing, service projects, social activities with the Sea Scouts and navigation techniques.

Joan Borden Is Elected to Board

Joan Borden of Orinda has been elected to the board of directors of the Desert Sun School Alumni Association.

The "prep" school is located in Idylwild, California. Election and homecoming were held in August for graduates of the school.

Council Presents Seminar

A seminar on anthropology was held recently by the Orinda Council of Civic Unity.

Presented by Mrs. Freddie Curtis, a newcomer to Orinda and formerly archeologist with the Southwest Museum in Los Angeles, the seminar was originally scheduled by the Orinda Council of Civic Unity and was met with enthusiastic response from many residents.

According to the council, the seminar was scheduled in order that those interested in arriving at an intelligent understanding of race might do so by a direct approach to facts:

"THE STUDY of fossil man, comparative anatomy and the scientific purposes for the classification of the varieties of mankind."

Racial differentiation in modern man seems to have been established at the time other species of prehistoric man died out or were absorbed and resulted from a number of causes, according to Mrs. Curtis.

Mrs. Curtis names these causes as being isolated geographically, natural selection of better adapted specimens of man, mutation and cultural and/or social barriers which tended to isolate some people.

"RACIAL differences between populations are simply differences in the frequency of contrasting traits," she said. "Every race has had at least 100 times as much of its ancestry in common with other races as it has had alone." Mrs. Curtis concluded.

In discussing racial types, Mrs. Curtis quoted Professor Ashley-Montagu in his recent study of race which states, "the so-called 'races' merely represent different kinds of temporary fixtures of genetic materials common to all men."

Mrs. Curtis said that racism is contrary to the findings of anthropology, going on to mention the as yet undermined limits of plasticity in peoples.

Burglary Suspect Arrest Leads To Loot Recovery

Recovery of $4600 worth of stolen goods from Orinda-Lafayette homes was linked with the arrest of a burglary suspect in Alameda County.

The suspect, Robert O. Basia, 27, Blossom Way, Hayward, was arrested recently. He had a key to a Fremont garage in his pocket. The garage was filled with stolen goods.

Recovered and identified include a $1000 mink coat from G. T. Martinson of Hidden Valley Road, Lafayette, stolen June 30.

Also, $600 worth of furs and jewelry from Mrs. Gladys Holm of La Espiral, Orinda, taken June 29.

And, all items but a TV set and a fur coat from Mrs. Marjorie Senton, Van Ripper Lane, Orinda, June 29.

Some $3000 of furs, jewelry and a TV set was taken from Mrs. Senton.

Entries Rolling in for Sun-LYA Swim Meet

Entries are already rolling in for the Sun-Lafayette Youth Association invitational swim meet to be held at Acalanes High School September 16 and 17.

But, if you are a swimmer, or you are connected with one of the many club teams in the area, there is not as much time as you think.

Entries must be in the hands of meet manager Dick Dobbins, 1428 Estrada Verde immediately after September 6.

ANY ENTRIES postmarked after that date will be returned unopened.

Here are the ground rules.

Entry fees are 50 cents per swimmer, and will cover all events entered. Checks should be made out to the Lafayette Youth Association and should accompany team entry sheets or individual entries.

There will be plenty of awards, too. Medals will go to first, second and third place winners in each individual event. Ribbons will go to fourth, fifth and sixth place.

There will be a team trophy for the team accumulating the highest point total.

TO BE ELIGIBLE, swimmers must be bona-fide members of a swim club. Swimmers that have competed with an A.A.U. club within the last year or trained with an A.A.U. club within the last 90 days are ineligible. Swimmers may be A.A.U. cardholders, however.

Each contestant will be limited to two individual events and relays.

Each team will be limited to two contestants per event and one team per relay.

SO, EVERYTHING is arranged for the swimmers, but how about the spectators?

Facilities are available for them, too, and free of charge, at that. But seating is limited, and will go on a first-come-first-served basis.

For further information regarding entries, contact Dick Dobbins at Acalanes High School during the daytime, or at home in the evenings at YE 5-1730.

It promises to be an exciting meet with keen competition among local swim clubs, as well as outstanding free-lance individuals.

If you want to be convinced that our youngsters can swim, just come out to Acalanes High School September 16 and 17 and see for yourself.

Festival Race 20 Entered Thus Far in Twenty entries have been received for the 17th Walnut Festival Race scheduled for September 24 over a 5.7 mile distance.

Sponsored by the Walnut Festival and sanctioned by the Pacific Association. AAU, the race is three times around a 1.9 mile course. There's no entry fee also no post entries.

Walnut Festival and AAU work closely with California Inter-scholastic Federation, governing board of high school athletics.

CIF now has a rule that any runner member of an organized high school cross country team in active team practice shall not during the season compete in any races not sponsored by a member of the CIF.

By September 24 most high schools with cross country teams will be in active team practice. Apparently this rule does not affect schools not having organized cross country teams.

Up to last year the Walnut Festival conducted a special 1.9 mile race for high school runners.

If the CIF in the future rescinds present rule plans are to resume the special high school race.

Particular stress this year to the AAU rule that in races of 5 miles and over runners must be 17 years of age.

Prizes are trophies to first, second and third medals to all others who finish. Team trophy to first three-man team to finish.

A concentrated effort is being made to encourage more young people to participate in the AAU sports program. Long Distance Running Commissioner Thomas Laughran requested interested aspirants desiring official calendar of races write him a letter or postal card giving full name, address, age, date of birth, and registration number and affiliation (if any).

Their records will be placed on the permanent mailing list.

Six Queen Candidates Remaining

Six lovely young ladies have qualified as semi-finalists in the race for queen of the 1961 Walnut Festival, according to the latest vote tabulations released by Bill McLaughlin, queen committee chairman.

Susan Holifield, 19-year-old Walnut Creek candidate, retained her lead in the contest by amassing a 12,310 vote total.

Second place in the standings is held by Glenda-Anne Beishline with 10,730 votes, while the third spot went to Diana Lee Nielsen with 9020.

Grouped closely for the remaining three semi-finalist positions are Mischelle Laverly with 8830, Carol Felting at 8800 and Pat Doty with 8250.

The original field on 10 candidates was trimmed to six this week, when the contest reached the date for a required total of 8000 votes for semi-finalists.

Finalists in the quest for Walnut Festival queen honors are to be named during the first week of September.

McLaughlin noted that the six candidates may well remain as finalists due to the closeness of the vote totals.

Second and final phase of the contest will be the beauty pageant to be staged on opening night of the 24th annual Festival, September 21.

Local unions have wide latitude in negotiating contracts with employers covering wages, hours, working conditions and other benefits. Since a local union is the contracting party in signing such agreements, it must adhere to certain minimum requirements set by the international union if its contract is to be approved by the ITU.

If a local union reaches an impasse in contract negotiations, it may, upon request to the ITU president, receive assistance from an international representative. The representative, acting as proxy for the ITU president, investigates the cause of the disagreement and makes every endeavor to adjust the difficulty. If, after reviewing the facts in the case, a majority of the executive council should decide that a strike is necessary, the local union then can hold a local referendum on the question or call a special meeting at which the matter is decided by secret ballot.

Once a local union has entered into a contract with an employer, the ITU as a matter of law and practice always insists that it discharge its obligations under the agreement. "Outlaw" strikes are not permitted by the ITU, and rarely occur. The ITU's insistence that its subordinate unions honor their contractual obligations has earned for the union the widespread respect of the printing and publishing industry.

The following Contra Costa County printing establishments are operating under contract with Martinez Typographical Union No. 397: Gazette, Martinez; Beacon, Concord; Miller Printing Co., Pittsburg; Ledger, Antioch; Post-Dispatch, Pittsburg; Transcript, Concord; Cito Print Shop, Antioch; Sun, Lafayette; Tri-City News, Rodero; Monument Printing Co., Pleasant Hill; Acme Press, Walnut Creek.

The Things We Did . . .

WHAT'S better than one grandmother's cooking? Two grandmothers' cooking, of course! Especially when you come out of the High Sierras on a pack trip like Perry Mann did (almost starved after his precisely-packed canvas bag of rations sent on ahead to the Ranger was broken into & held not a crumb for the last lap of the mountain climbing journey.)

HERE TO pamper Perry & brother Tom Mann while the boys' parents tour Europe are their dear devoted grandmothers—Ivy Strong & Ethel Mann, both of Stockton.

MORE EXCITEMENT at the Mann Menage—Perry off this week to the SF airport to welcome young Frenchman Jean-Michel Sicri, the Foreign Exchange student who'll live w/ the Manns for the next year & arrived in time to enjoy the double B'day celebration of BOTH Grandmothers next weekend. They share a mutual B'day date on August 31 so you can bet the cake will be high, wide & frosted & won't last long w/ three boys around!

Jean & Tom Mann, still in Switzerland, go on to Paris next for a meeting w/Jean-Michel's parents there . . . Small World, isn't it?

PIANO-Teach Peg Winters is getting back to reality after a room from home to Europe all summer accompanying a Beverly Hills friend.

Peg took in all the pts. of interest from Paris to Rome, chatted like a magpie in the tongue of many countries, even learned a few Russian words but absolutely refused to don a babushka in the manner of the Soviet ladies.

PARK POOL'S Betty Bell spends her time tying the licorice sticks in knots—"The kids get a kick out of them that way" . . . But what can you expect from a person who insisted she saw a flying saucer land on an Orinda rooftop.

From the vantage point of the Pool's canteen, Betty's eyes got big as saucers as she spotted a space ship across the way. She called the Fire Dept., who having a look for themselves, smilingly assured her it was just the sun's reflections on two TV rotomennas. Betty's been kidded ever since w/"Seen any Martians lately?"

LAST TUES. morning a 5 ayem the telephone rang in the Bell abode. "Mrs. Bell, we have a call from Paris. Will you take it?" Sleepy-eyed Betty had presence of mind enough to tell the operator "Just one moment, please" in a soft good-morning voice . . .

Then she put down the phone & in manner of a military drill sergeant, called the three children, "Up . . . UP . . . UUUUUUP!" Your father's on the phone!" Then, Youngsters on their feet, Betty picked up the phone & spoke softly again "We'll accept that call from Paris now" . . .

Philip Bell, father of David, Linda & Lisa was calling from Paris where it was early afternoon . . . He's on a 3-mos. tour of the continent & smitten w/Copenhagen will return to that city as well as Paris before heading homeward.

YOUNG JAY Jacobus finally got his foot in the door. The Stage Door. When dad Atty. Jay Jacobus, a former Little Theater actor, was called in for a scene, shot at Washington Hi in SF for the Glenn-Ford-Lee Remick pix, they only needed extras, not actors, & Jay Sr. only had his Actor's Guild card along so son Jay was swept into action.

He had a talking part w/Miss Remick—like the word "Hi!"—& if we know the way Jay hammed up that Hi, there's little chance he'll land on the cutting-room floor.

SINCE HIS early youth when he used to shoot it out on our hill-side w/a make-believe army, we knew that boy would make it! We'd suspect dozens of kids playing there & it would only be Jay, who looks more like Brandon De Wilde than Brandon De Wilde does!

At the Twaine Harte, Hazel & Tom Wilcox & family no sooner arrived than wouldn't you know, the washing machine started sending up smoke signals & Hazel had to learn how w/the Wash-board . . . At the Rieger's Tahoe place, Marge Rieger w/family, guests & new babe coped w/her calamity . . . A smoking refrigerator & a washing machine running only COLD water! Papa, put the kettle on!

THE ROBERT Mark family had a delightful rest at a Crater Lake resort . . . & Dentist Gene Garbarino broke in his wartime Japanese wading shoes tramping the shallow waters of Tomales Bay State Park w/his boys & girls—when they weren't rowing the raft on the nearby beach waters.

My Favorite RECIPE
BY Nancy Black

You folks delighted me no end with your letters about the sauce last week. Just for that, I WILL tell you about another delicious French recipe my family loves too. This time it is fish done so differently you'll convert even non-fish eaters.

FISH MAITRE D'HOTEL
1 to 1½ lbs. filets of your favorite fish (4 to 6 pieces), 2 cups water, 1 tspn. salt, 1 lemon, cut into thin slices.
In large saucepan, combine water and salt. Add filets. Bring to boil. Take pan off fire and let stand, covered, for 10 minutes. Remove fish to heated serving dish. Garnish with slices of lemon. Serve hot.
Serve with butter, hot, to which a pinch of dried tarragon leaves has been added. Serves 4 to 6.
See the boys at our liquor department for the best wine to serve with this.

Lousy Spanish at New High School in Rheem?

They're murdering the Spanish, again, claims Mrs. Helen Ford, well-known Spanish teacher, who has been horrified by the weird names she finds on street corners and in front of subdivisions.

This time it is the name of the new high school in Rheem, she says.

It is called "Campolindo."

In a letter to Mrs. Alla Knudsen, Acalanes High School district board member, Mrs. Ford said, in part, "... may I point out that this name cannot be used because it is incorrect Spanish."

She continued, "It can be 'Campo Lindo,' two words.

"The adjective cannot be attached to the noun any more than we can say beautiful country."

"If we are to use foreign names, I believe that the words used should be correct and correctly pronounced."

"Mr. Ross has done a fine job at Del Valle in educating everyone concerned that it is pronounced Dale Yahye."

"There are horrible examples of wrong Spanish names of many streets and subdivisions, but we Americans have mastered Vallejo and LaJolla, so I guess we can master Del Valle and Campo LEENDO ..."

Nielsen Hits State Proposals For Delta Water

County Supervisor Mel Nielsen told his colleagues Tuesday that the state water department's bulletin No. 76 and a recent accompanying press statement clearly favors the "Southern California approved proposal to build a big ditch across the Delta to make sure Southern California gets fresh water even though the Delta is turned into a salt marsh."

Nielsen referred to the "Single Purpose Delta Water Project" which calls for several Delta barriers and a cross-Delta channel.

Nielsen said, "... this unproven scheme is advocated by the department with no real consideration of the disastrous results it would have on the Delta. It is alarmingly clear that the Department of Water Resources in advocating this plan is obviously knuckling under to heavy political pressure from Southern California to get Delta water on its way to Southern California, as soon as possible with no concern whatever for the water needs or the future growth of the Delta area itself."

He said, "The news summary, like the bulletin, appears to me to be an elaborately contrived whitewash job to conceal the dangerous lack of any real consideration of the basic engineering and economic factors that must be considered if Delta water problems are ever to be solved."

Nielsen complimented State Senator George Miller's "exposure" of the "dangers" of bulletin No. 76.

He called for decision-making, "without pressure from the governor's office in Sacramento or the Metropolitan Water District in Southern California."

LYA Swimmers Picnic Today

Age group trophies from the Saturday races will be presented at this time. Mrs. Johnson Clark, CL 4-4523, is in charge of the party.

First Savings Announces Title Changes

The board of directors of First Savings and Loan Association announced more appropriate designations of title for its two top managerial officers.

Stuart Davis, who has been associated with First Savings since 1938 and president since 1954, becomes chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

C. W. Ford, executive vice president and member of the board, has been elevated to president and chief administrative officer.

DAVIS as chief executive officer will devote full time to the planning and policy structure of First Savings. Ford, in his capacity as president, will devote his time to the administrative and managerial functions required by the savings and loan industry since 1947 when he was executive vice president of the Santa Maria Savings and Loan Association.

SUBSEQUENTLY and immediately prior to coming to First Savings, he was president of Central Savings and Loan Association in San Luis Obispo.

Davis and Ford are both residents of Contra Costa County. Davis in Orinda and Ford in Lafayette.

Manager of the First Savings office in Walnut Creek is William R. Martin, assistant vice president.

Other offices are located in Oakland, San Francisco, Berkeley, Alameda and San Leandro.

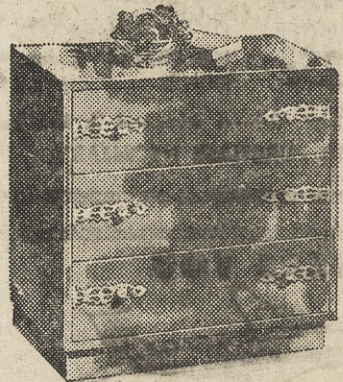

Direct Dialing Comes Sept. 3

Long distance direct dialing will come to Lafayette September 3, Pacific Telephone manager H. C. Greenhalgh announced today.

This means that Lafayette phone customers will be able to dial their own calls to Bay Area telephones and to most points throughout the nation.

Detailed information on Direct Distance Dialing will be sent by mail to all Lafayette customers, H. C. Greenhalgh said.

The conversion will enable 7000 cities in the United States and Canada simply by dialing a three digit area code before the desired number.

Association Will Award Scholarship

A $100 college scholarship for a qualified 1962 graduate from the Acalanes Union High School District will be awarded.

President Harry L. Morrison Jr., of Lafayette Federal Savings and Loan Association announced today the scholarship will be for the college of the recipient's choice.

The scholarship was authorized at the last regular meeting of the board of directors of the association.

IT IS being provided in recognition of the firm's responsibility to contribute to community life, according to Morrison.

The final selection for the college scholarship will be made by a panel of educators and other citizens at a later date.

The scholarship award will be made on the basis of need, scholastic performance and indications of potential leadership.

Morrison stated that as the saving firm grows, the amount and number of college scholarships to be awarded by the association will increase.

R. F. Walker Takes Shipboard Training

Among the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC) students undergoing annual midshipmen summer training aboard ships of Destroyer Flotilla Three off the coast of California is Midshipman Third Class Robert F. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Walker of 740 Glenside Circle, Lafayette.

Representing NROTC units at colleges and universities throughout the United States, the midshipmen are receiving practical "at-sea" experience in seamanship, navigation, engineering and gunnery during the five-week cruise.

THIS EXPERIENCE will help prepare them for commissions in the naval service upon graduation.

Midshipmen cruises are conducted each summer to give midshipmen a practical working knowledge of the Navy and of ships in which they may be embarked as officers.

Scenic lakes you can enjoy...
beautiful by-product of PG&E service

PG&E's lakes—more than 100 of them, all along the Sierra—are there for you to enjoy. They're formed when we build dams to harness and conserve water for power generation. These lakes, the streams they help keep flowing year-round, and our access roads to them, are open to tourists, vacationers, fishermen and all lovers of the great outdoors. We work with fish, game, forestry and highway officials to make these areas even more enjoyable. Moreover, the conserved water and its regulated release help farmers irrigate their lands in the foothills and valleys below. Our lakes are delightful and beneficial by-products of electricity, and there are new ones almost every year as Pacific Gas & Electric Company builds ahead for a state-on-the-grow.

"Each year it becomes relatively easier to get our story across. In addition to the excellent cooperation of the county newspapers, radio stations, and other media, we still need all organizations and individual's help. "ONLY YOU can help us with this tremendous task."

Previewed by the panel of public relation volunteers was a 12½-minute documentary film entitled "Any Questions?"

Talent included John Gambucci of Richmond showing how he is being aided by a Crusade agency, and Contra Costa's Sheriff Walter Young is seen in one of the sequences.

United Fund President Dana Murdock and Gerald C. Stanley, county campaign chairman, spoke.

NAVAL Ammunition Depot Training Director George Deeds of Concord, serving for the second year as County Speakers Bureau chairman, made a "sample" talk on the program of the United Crusade and its affiliated health, welfare and youth guidance agencies.

John Davis, county probation officer, was appointed chairman for the County Employees Division of the 1961 United Crusade campaign, said Thomas McBride, central campaign chairman.

The division under Davis' leadership is striving to raise $15,334 or 10 per cent over last year's goal, McBride said.

Of Roads, Parks Taxes And Relief Programs . . .

County government, taxes, relief programs and bond issues are complicated subjects, and whole books have been devoted to them.

But it is necessary for each of us to gain some understanding of the processes at work if we are concerned about our homes, the future of our communities, and perhaps most important, our tax rates.

Our board of supervisors has taken a step forward in the recent test program in Berkeley whereby able bodied recipients of relief funds must work in order to obtain the money.

AT LEAST, THIS way, we will get something for the money we are spending. Although the program will still cost us as much, we should see some returns for funds spent.

Also this week, the supervisors are considering a county bond issue for the rather large sum of approximately $35 million.

This bond issue affects you, personally, because in the long run you will pay the bills.

So it pays for us to find out exactly what the county is proposing before we decide to vote yes or no on a proposition.

A belligerent attitude, usually expressed in a "No" vote on anything, be it schools, roads, park or what-have-you, is just as bad as a give-away program whereby individuals are inclined to approve every expenditure of funds which is proposed.

THE QUESTION that bothers us with the proposed bond issue is that it is divided into three sections . . . one for roads, one for parks and the third for construction of new county buildings.

Our concern arises from the fact that if all these programs are lumped under one bond issue, we will have no choice . . . either we buy the whole package or reject the whole package.

And this does not seem fair.

IT IS TOO early yet to go into the specific proposals, but generally speaking we feel that perhaps residents of the county may choose to approve part of the bond issue—say roads, but reject another part—say parks or county buildings.

It would seem to us that the whole program is being placed in jeopardy by placing the whole package before the voters, unless they have a chance to accept and reject parts of it.

Consider money for aquisition of county parks, for example. We feel that the supervisors and the county park commission would have to do a better job of explaining the Bear Creek Road situation in Orinda and Briones Park than they have yet done before we would beat the drums for passage of such a bond issue.

ON THE OTHER hand, it is obvious that we are going to need many new and better roads over the next few years if we are going to keep anywhere near keeping up with the population expansion of our county.

Whatever the decision that is made in Martinez, ultimately it will directly affect you and your family . . . and your home.

There will be much said about these problems in The Sun during the next few months, but your voice will provide the final answer.

A New Set of Teeth Is Prepared for Brown Act

It's not that residents, newspapers and television don't trust their elected and appointed, officials of special districts and governmental bodies, it's just that they like to be sure that they know what is going on.

And we certainly aren't casting any stones at the local administrative bodies around this part of the country.

We would like, however, to point out that the Brown act now has teeth in it.

THE BROWN ACT, to refresh your memory, is the anti-secrecy in government act which was originally authored by Assemblyman Ralph M. Brown of Modesto, and it required that all meetings of governmental bodies must be open to the press and the public, except for those meetings which discussed personnel problems or which would affect national security.

A new set of teeth has been added, however, with a recent amendment which provides for fine or imprisonment for violation of the anti-secrecy act.

Adopted in 1953, the Brown act has been under constant fire by public officials who do not like to do business in a "fish bowl," even though that business may be public business to which the people are entitled to access.

FOR THE MOST PART, our local trustees and commissioners . . . the school districts, fire districts, sanitary district and other special governmental bodies, have been most cooperative in holding open meetings and in honestly trying to conduct their business publicly and openly.

Sometimes, however, a "misinterpretation" crops up . . . and rarely, an individual who would just as soon circumvent the law by one means or another.

And in these cases, it is nice to have a weapon to use.

And we have it . . . the Brown act. With teeth in it.

The Staff Corner Beware of the Frog . . .

By DICK OSBORN

Frogs don't often enter a living room conversation, but around our house lately, it has become a persistent topic.

It all started with this backyard do-it-yourself pool that we built.

Real fancy. There's a big glass window and part of the pool actually comes into an annex of the living room. Real fancy.

We stocked the pool with a couple of goldfish and a water lily and sat back to enjoy the cool sound of water splashing from the fountain.

But we didn't reckon with the natural fauna of Contra Costa County.

The first to come were the bees.

YOU HAVE NO idea how thirsty these little critters are, and our pool is covered with them. (Our neighbor keeps bee hives, so that is that).

And then came Custer.

Custer first appeared under some juniper plants in the front yard. Actually, he didn't look much like a frog, but more like a toad. Not very attractive.

We decided he shouldn't live in the front yard, where he was perfectly content, but in the back yard by the pool.

So we moved him. Threw him in, in fact. Worked fine. Custer could swim, and he did . . . right out of the pool, and disappeared.

THE NEXT CUSTER to appear was large, green and stuffed. My mother decided he should sit next to the pool.

No trouble from him.

Then the original Custer reappeared . . . but in a rather spectacular manner.

On one of those midnight trips down the hall for a glass of water, a sudden startled gasp was heard. And then a comment:

"There's a FROG in the house!"

Now, there is something decidedly distasteful about the thought of walking down the hall in your bare feet and stepping on something as soft and cold as a toad (or frog).

SO, CUSTER WAS again banished and he has disappeared.

But now a new Custer has appeared. He's smaller, green, with nice brown streaks and definitely likes the pool.

And the house.

So, if you ever come over to our place and you happen to have your shoes off, and you're walking down the hall, please

Watch where you're going.

We're getting rather fond of the little fellow since he moved in.

We Like It Here . . .

Be It Ever So Humble--- NO Place Like Home!!

By MARIE MONAHAN

THERE'S good psychology behind the mass exodus to the mountains.

The family vacation trek with tents & tarps has reached an all-time high & I wouldn't be surprised, dear women, if the MEN aren't behind the whole thing.

THAT'S WHAT I'm reflecting on now that I'm ensconced once again in my cozy house after a week's stay in the woods.

THE OLD HOMESTEAD never looked so good.

What a joy to behold the neat kitchen, the convenient appliances . . . The clean linen & the tidy look of my dear own bedroom made me want to sit right down & weep no more.

The hot running shower & the cold running refrigerator I'll never again take for granted . . . & if I ever complain of doing dishes, banish me to someplace like Siberia.

IT'S NOT that I'm against camping. I'm ALL FOR it!

The reason camping IS such fun is because it IS a temporary thing, thank heavens!

MAINLY, it makes you appreciate what you've got.

Sure, I enjoyed sleeping under the stars in the scent of the redwoods, flipping flapjacks over a wood fire & living for the moment like a grimey wood gnome in the forest primeval.

But the first night out, I coped with kids curled up around me while lightning crackled & thunder roared right over our tent & everything got soaking wet.

THE BEES gave no peace around the cooking area & one even managed to hammer his weapon deep in my finger.

ON THE GLORIOUS windblown beach, the baby got a mouthful of sand. My daughter trying to kick what she thought was a sand-crab off her foot, only managed to imbed deeper a rust old fishhook weighted with a heavy metal sinker & our big day at the beach had its brief end as we sped 15 miles to the nearest doctor.

YES, THE FOOD WAS delicious! But in retrospect, I suspect it tasted that good because we were surprised we got ANY at all.

We were always down to our last mantle on the lantern or the last stick of firewood or the last ounce of white gas for the fuel stove or the last melting blob of ice . . .

OR THE LAST match!

Observing fellow campers, I wondered where the magazines get those people who pose for camping pictures, or the kind the sporting ads feature who look so unruffled & well-combed as if they'd just been delivered of a dinner from the local hotel.

MOST of the time I looked like Ma Kettle . . . & the men I saw . . . well, remember Wallace Beery?

Because of a saggy tent, I am still walking around stoop-shouldered. There may be a crick in my back but there's a song in my heart.

OUR BEDS aren't full of sand, spiders & centipedes. The squirrels aren't swiping our bread & the bears aren't begging the beefsteak.

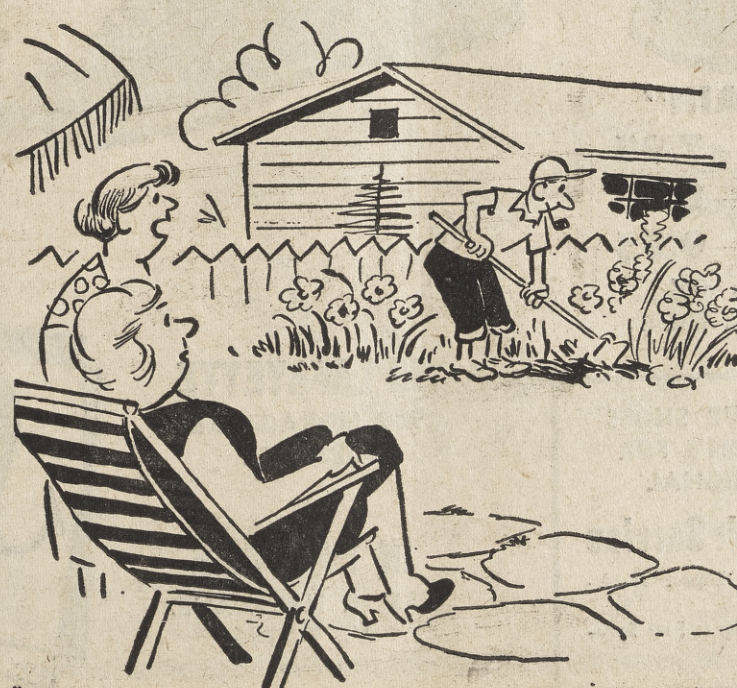

THERE'S A BAR of Blue Glass in the shower, clean towels in the closet & a fresh apple pie in the oven.

WE'LL go back to The Great Outdoors for more next year. But in the meantime, I'll enjoy every inch of my home & I'll never complain again, Honest!

Hmmmm. Methinks the husbands have embarked on this subversive movement of "camping" just to make us gals really appreciate what we've got!

HOME, SWEET HOME! There's no place like it!

Letters to The Editor

PARADE PROBLEM

Dear Editor:
I am writing to you on behalf of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce regarding the following that appeared in Marie Monahan's column in The Sun a few weeks ago—"Some of the 4th of July stay-at-homeers will be sad there will be no Fourth of July parade as planned earlier. The Chamber of Commerce, I wish I knew why, put the skids on it, kids."

Although Marie had another article in a subsequent issue of The Sun commenting on the fact that there must have been a misunderstanding, I feel that in fairness to the chamber that the people of the community should know the facts regarding her comments in her column.

ABOUT THE middle of May an Orinda resident called at my office to suggest that Orinda have a Fourth of July parade, and she also suggested that such a parade be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. She informed me that she formerly lived in Lexington, Massachusetts, and every Fourth of July Lexington and other communities in Massachusetts and in New England held Fourth of July parades, and she thought that the children in this community—especially, were missing something, because she was sure that some of them had never seen a parade.

I pointed out to her that usually Fourth of July parades were held in more metropolitan areas such as Oakland, San Francisco, San Jose, etc., and that usually veteran organizations arranged for such parades. However, I informed her that I thought her idea was a good one and suggested she discuss this with superintendent of schools, Joseph Sheaff, my thought being that the children could be polled, since the children, according to the way this lady was discussing the proposed parade, were to be the direct beneficiaries of such an event.

IF THE CHILDREN showed an interest I asked her to come back and talk to me further about it. I do know that she did not talk to Mr. Sheaff, and I can assure you that we of the chamber were more than surprised that Marie did not check with me or with Kenneth Courtright, president, before releasing the remark in her column.

It is quite possible that some people are under the impression that Orinda had a Fourth of July parade when the Orinda Fiesta was held in the middle of May, 1955 to commemorate the completion of the freeway and the cloverleaves in the highway system. That event was initiated by the Orinda Rotary club, and the preparation for that two-day event began in January, 1955.

CLARENCE E. BETZ,
Secretary.

NEIGHBORS

DEAR EDITOR:
I am proud of the Sun and I am proud of Norman Colby. I refer specifically to the article of July 28 about the good neighbors of Rancho San Miguel.

I sincerely hope that the future holds many more such experiences for people other than those fortunate enough to live in Joseph Eichler homes, with good neighbors of all races, creeds and colors.

Thank you for letting us see such a neighborhood in action.

JOYCE McBETH.

RAPID TRANSIT

Dear Editor:
On the first Monday after Thanksgiving Day in 1937 my husband, C. B. Chantler, and three others were the first passengers on the newly inaugurated Sacramento-Northern bus service from Orinda to San Francisco.

The bus stopped at the old crossroads and then went to the Village to pick up passengers and from there went to San Francisco. He recalls that the trip took about 37 minutes!

Korean Kids and The Sun Say 'Thanks a Lot'

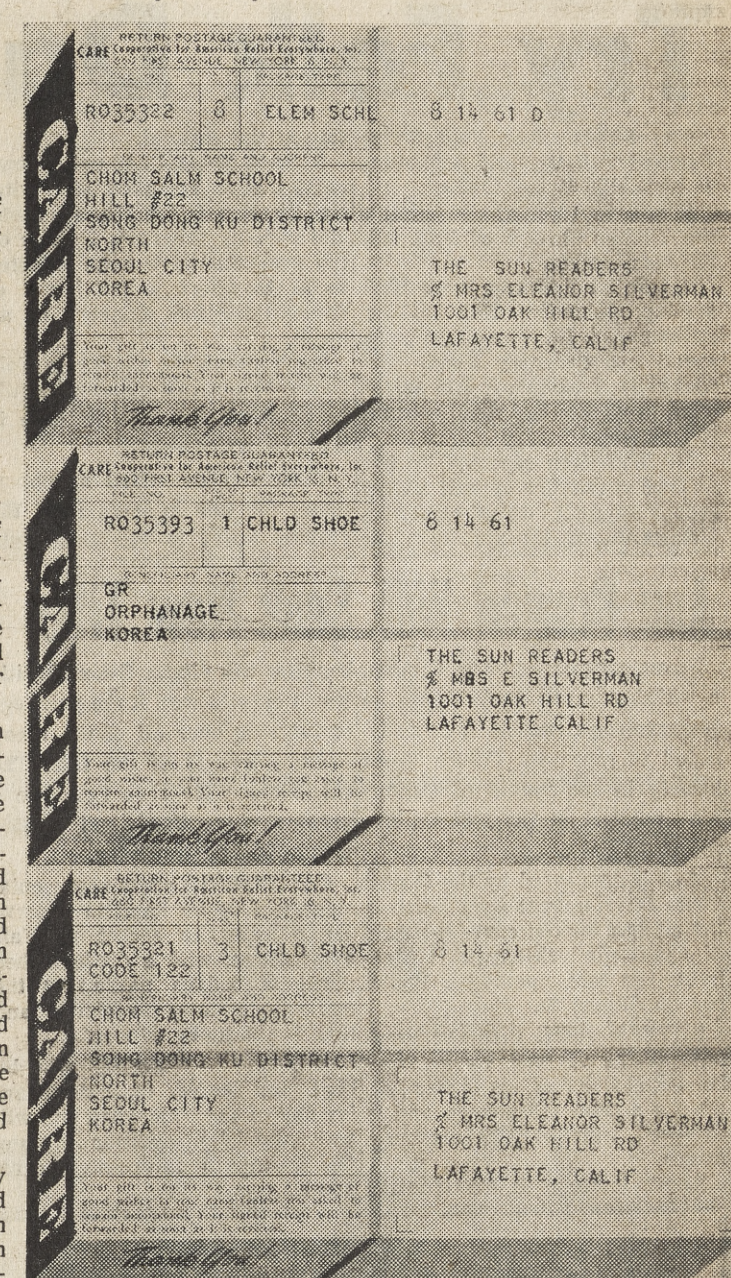

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

This is another report to you.

To tell you that cases of shoes and school supplies are on their way from you, via CARE, to Korean children.

And to tell you that more money is coming in. Received $10 check the other day. (This will be acknowledged to the sender by CARE.) But $1 is a very nice contribution. You know 10 $1 bills are equal to $10, which equals 12 pairs of shoes for Korean kids.

Here are some of the receipts we've been receiving: So thank you very much.

Letters to The Editor Switzerland Enchants Bill Miller, AFS Student

(Ed. Note: The following letter and Saturday, and Sunday we, the second in a series of letters family, spent at the hotel on the written by 16-year-old Bill Miller St. Gotthard pass. The hike Sun-to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ar-day was like a winter tour. Half the time we were in snow, and it Bill is living in Dubendorf, Ger-did snow. It was exactly like the many with his AFS family, the weather here in December.

EVEN SO, we could look down 2000 ft. into the valley below and it was very beautiful. Painters have not written but things have really been moving around here. The piece below is from one mother to another.

I hope everyone is well and healthy.

Until later,
Tschau,
Bill.

DEAR EDITOR:
The recent flurry of local residential robberies prompts me to write this letter which I've put off far too long. This has been on my mind for several years since the suggestion (not mine originally) was first made.

In a way it's locking the barn door too late, but it makes mighty good sense to me, and it's this.

If residents would ALL leave their porch lights burning all night — it costs very little to do this — we would not only deter the would-be robber, but could also solve a not other problem many unlighted areas such as mine, Gregory Gardens.

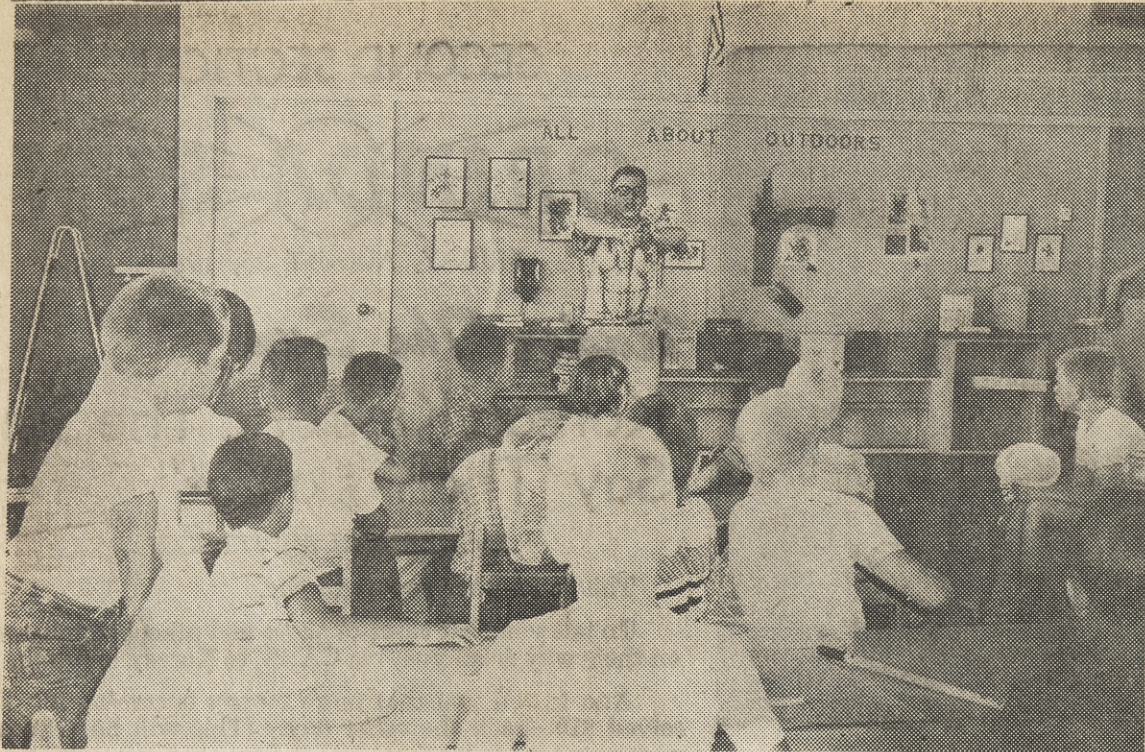

We'd need street lights we've cried out for so long. I'm sure it would be far cheaper than being assessed for installing corner street lights, and all areas would be equally lit.

What I want now, is that being suggestion, rather than being read, commented on and forgotten, be made into some kind of civic campaign.

The various improvement clubs (Lord only knows what ever happened to ours) could work in their own areas. I feel certain that the overall good that would result, would far outweigh the insignificant cost.

Even if a few individuals did not cooperate, the light shed by the majority would easily do the job.

Try Folk Dancing!

The September Folk Dance Festival will be held September 10 at Diablo Valley College. It was discussed at a meeting of the Diablo Council of Folk and Square Dancers. Appointed chairmen were Herb Shelley, publicity; Rita Dobson, advertising; Herman Marquardt, sound and records; Winnie McLaughlin, hospitality; Bill Wakeman, program; Hal Reis, grounds and cleanup. Bill Wakeman reported he has secured a number of well known groups to perform exhibition dances during the afternoon portion of the festival. At least 10 local and out of town callers have accepted an invitation to appear for the afternoon and evening program. Dances on the program have been selected so as to afford a maximum of dancing for folk dancers of all levels. Each month the California Folk Dance Federation sponsors a folk dance festival somewhere in Northern California. These dances afford an opportunity for folk dancers from the various areas of Northern California to become acquainted. No admission is charged and spectators are invited to attend both the afternoon and evening sessions. Afternoon session will start at 1:30 p.m. and end at 5:30 p.m. Dancing will begin again at 7:30 ending at 11 p.m. For convenience, arrows will be posted along the highways leading to the college. The only youth group in the council, "The Quadrilles," will sell cold drinks. The proceeds will go toward their scholarship fund.

Pupil Eye Test Now Improved by Method

Use of the new MCT method of vision screening developed in Contra Costa County gives Johnny a better chance to see his three R's properly, say educators, because the method is more accurate and because parents and eye doctors cooperate to a greater degree.

An accuracy rate of 92 per cent experienced in the 1960-61 vision screening of 10,050 school children was not unexpected, confirming as it does the previous findings, but the high rate of follow-up "was amazing," said Dr. Harold Weatherbe, administrative assistant, who is in charge of the vision screening project. "The most significant thing about last year's results is that 67 per cent of those referred had complete eye evaluation and returned the record of this examination to the school," Dr. Weatherbe commented.

"IN GENERAL the returns of such medical screening to school personnel runs in the neighborhood of 16 to 20 per cent," he added.

In all, the Modified Clinical Technique, MCT's full title, tagged 1126 kindergarten and first grade children as likely to need vision correction. The schools received records from the eye doctors for 756 of these, and the medical men agreed with 92 per cent of the referrals to them.

Additional children very likely saw an eye doctor but were not reported to the schools.

Dr. Weatherbe announced that the program is ready to go into its third year, with vision-screening to begin September 25.

THE COST will again be 55 cents per pupil.

MCT was developed by the Contra Costa County Health Department and schools of ophthalmology of the University of California and Stanford University in a pilot project undertaken in the Orinda Union School District, with the Contra Costa County School Department cooperating.

Since its introduction in Contra Costa County, MCT has begun to spread to other parts of California and of the nation, said the administrative assistant.

With few exceptions all schools of the county having primary grades participate in the vision screening by contracting with the county office. The latter operates the program, employing the eye doctors who perform the screening.

Formerly, vision screening, which is required by state law, was undertaken by the classroom teacher or school nurse. Besides robbing the teacher of teaching time, the older tests had the disadvantage of a low rate of accuracy, said Weatherbe.

The local schedule is as follows:

Orinda District, September 25-28; Mt. Diablo District, September 25-December 8; Lafayette, October 11-31; Moraga - Canyon, November 1-3.

Campolindo Is Name of New High School

Acalanes High School District trustees have named the new Rheem area high school "Campolindo," which means beautiful countryside.

The board reached a decision on the name after studying a list of more than 30 Spanish titles suggested by members of the district's foreign language instructors and others. Selection of the name was made from a list of six potentials taken from the original list of 30 in conjunction with the district's established policy of selecting school names with a Spanish theme in keeping with the Acalanes area's historical heritage.

Campolindo will open in the fall of 1962 for an initial freshman enrollment. Construction on the site gets underway this month.

In other action trustees approved a low bid of $2684 by Joseph Tancredy Plumbing Company, of Lafayette. The bid provides for changing an existing classroom at Las Lomas High into a chemistry laboratory.

New FHA Program to Benefit Area Families

Many Contra Costa area families are expected to use a new home loan insurance program of the Federal Housing Administration to make practical their purchase of existing homes needing some modernization, Charles E. Bailey, president to the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, said today.

Established by the Housing Act of 1961, the new FHA program provides for the insurance of home improvement loans of not less than $2,500 or more than $10,000 for a period of up to 20 years with a maximum permissible interest rate of 6 per cent.

This was one of the few sections of the omnibus housing bill that had the support of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and of virtually all segments of the shelter industry.

THE NEW PROGRAM is designed to help home owners secure financing on convenient terms for basic renovation jobs to existing housing, Bailey pointed out. Such renovation or modernization may include many things such as new roofing and insulation, a new heating plant and plumbing, kitchen improvement, the addition of a new bedroom or bathroom.

"Almost every realtor in the Contra Costa area has among his listings of houses for sale existing homes in good neighborhoods which have attracted the interest of prospective purchasers because of the amenities that are a distinctive feature of older homes—larger rooms, established neighborhood, extensive landscaping, and so on," he said.

In many cases, house-hunters have been attracted to these homes but have hesitated to buy because they have felt that the house needed modernization in some respects. The high interest rate and monthly payment schedule of such modernization under previous prevailing lending programs, in addition to the purchase financing, have acted as a deterrent.

THE NEW FHA program will be a real help in the solution of this problem and should make possible the consummation of many sales that are now hanging in the balance by keeping interest rates down and reducing monthly repayments by spreading them over a longer period.

Bailey went on to say that many realtors—members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board and hence of the National Association of Real Estate Boards—are prepared to offer additional help to families thinking of buying existing homes and negotiating an FHA-insured home improvement loan.

"Our members know reputable contractors in the Contra Costa area who are interested in the modernization business and highly skilled at it," he said. "Some of our people have already contacted these contractors and se-

Crusade Kickoff Has Comedian, September 13

Morey Amsterdam, radio and television's cello-playing funny man will emcee the 1961 Alameda-Contra Costa United Crusade "Kick-off Dinner" September 13 at the Oakland Exposition Building.

The chubby comedian, whose sharp wit has delighted audiences from coast to coast, will share the spotlight with guest speaker General Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American National Red Cross and former chief of NATO.

According to dinner committee chairman, Mrs. Leonard Johnson of Piedmont, Amsterdam will take time out from a current TV comedy series he is working on in Hollywood to fly here for the event which heralds the opening of this year's Crusade drive.

"Since 1957 top names like Jimmy Stewart, General Carlos P. Romulo, George Murphy, Steve Allen, Governor Arthur Langlie, and Wendell Corey have drawn consistent sell out crowds to our annual affair," Mrs. Johnson said.

She added, "This year's program promises to be the best one yet, and for that reason we've moved from our traditional spot at the Scottish Rite Auditorium to the Exposition Building where we can accommodate close to 2000 people."

Traffic Changes At Tunnel

Westbound traffic along State Sign Route 24 began using the new detour near the exit of the Caldecott Tunnel on the Oakland side, Wednesday.

The eastbound lanes of the detour were opened to traffic August 17, and with the westbound shift, all traffic along this section of the highway will be travelling the detour route.

This will enable the contractor to proceed with construction operations preliminary to actual tunneling for the third bore between Oakland and Orinda.

'Anything Goes' Dramateurs Produce Hit; 'Mr. Roberts' Acclaimed!

Contra Costa Musical Theater has chosen Cole Porter's gay musical, "Anything Goes," for its first season.

The musical score of this comedy about shipboard romance and intrigue include such favorites as "I Get a Kick Out of You," "All Through the Night," and "You're the Top."

There will be a special meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Concord Recreation Clubhouse.

2970 Salvio Street.

Directors will comment on auditions and casting for the show, according to Mrs. Walter Schill, vice president and acting publicity chairman.

Membership in Contra Costa Musical Theater is still available to persons interested in singing, dancing, acting and technical stage work.

Further details may be obtained by contacting Mrs. R. G. Duncan at 2336 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek, or Mrs. Walter A. Schill, 810 Sassel Avenue, Concord.

Ken Snyder Attends Tackle Trade School

R. Ken Snyder of Lafayette, attended the fourth annual tackle trade show of the Associated Fishing Tackle Manufacturers in Chicago, August 20-23.

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Better than book, movie or Broadway play, the Dramateurs' current production, "Mr. Roberts," is an unqualified hit.

Playing before a full house both Friday and Saturday, the cast did a superb job opening weekend, provoking more chuckles and spontaneous laughter than has filled Lafayette's Town Hall in months.

DIRECTOR Carl Rasmussen is to be complimented for excellent casting... the men not only had the talent to play their parts convincingly, but their physical appearance suited their roles.

Harry Rasmussen as the captain was completely despicable. He played his part so well that the audience worked up considerable hatred for him, sharing the sentiments of officers and crew, to the point that this man, whom we understand is very affable off-stage, was heartily disliked.

Howard M. Dewitt, Jr., who played Mr. Roberts is not only an accomplished actor, but an attractive one. With excellent timing of words and gestures, Dewitt inspired as much attraction from the audience as Rasmussen did hatred.

Both actors projected the personalities of the characters they played to perfection. When news of Mr. Robert's death came to Ensign Pulver, there was more than one pair of moist eyes in the audience.

STU KLITSNER as Pulver stole the show. Humor that could have been a bit on the raw side, remained humor in Pulver's interpretation of the role.

There's plenty of ribald in Mr. Jean, mCn

Roberts, but the cast handled it skillfully and it remained funny, not offending. The lone lady of the cast, Betty Reynolds, who played Lieutenant Ann Girard, had little to say in the play, but when she says it she brings down the house.

The play will be presented at Lafayette Town Hall again tonight and Saturday, continuing weekends through September 9. For reservations call CL 4-5241 until 6 p.m., 284-9965 after 7 p.m.

DESSERTS OF THE WEEK FROM Betty Crocker

Nice thought for summer—cake and fruit. Bake your cake in the cool of the morning and when dinner time comes round, you're ready with a treat the whole family will love. Here are three we like especially.

Cake-of-the-week: LEMON FRUIT 'N CREAM CAKE

Delightfully cool and lemony! Bake Betty Crocker Lemon Velvet Cake Mix in two 9" layers as directed. Split each layer to make 4. Prepare Betty Crocker Lemon Fluff Frosting Mix; set aside to cool. Whip 1 cup whipping cream until stiff; fold into frosting. Reserve 1 cup for top of cake. To remainder fold in 1 cup fresh or canned seedless grapes, halved, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts and 1 cup canned Mandarin orange sections, drained. Spread between layers. Spread top of cake with reserved frosting. Decorate with whole grapes and walnut halves. Chill.

Family favorite: PEACH GLAZED CAKE

Bake Betty Crocker White Cake Mix in layers as directed on pkg. Cool. Combine contents of 1 can (1 lb. 6 oz.) peach pie filling with 1/2 tsp. cinnamon and 1 tsp. lemon rind. Prepare 1 pkg. Betty Crocker Fluffy White Frosting Mix as directed on pkg. Spread 1 cup of frosting over bottom layer; spoon on 1/2 cup of pie filling. Cover with top layer; frost sides and top with remaining frosting. Fruit Glaze: spoon more pie filling over top of cake, allowing it to drip down sides (add few drops water to pie filling, if necessary). Chill.

To say "I love you": BLUEBERRY HEART CAKE

Great for birthdays or any days. Bake Betty Crocker Yellow Cake Mix in one square pan, 8 x 8 x 2", and one round pan, 8 x 1 1/2". To make heart-shaped cake: place square cake on large tray or breadboard covered with aluminum foil with one point toward you. Cut round layer in half. Arrange each half cut side against top corners of square to form heart. Beat 2 cups whipping cream with 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fold in 1 tsp. vanilla. Frost top and sides of cake. Cover top with fresh, sugared blueberries.

Donna Breaks European Mark--U.S. Stars Lose

The American women's swimming team, including nine recently crowned National AAU champions, were shocked by a crack team of Dutch swimmers in the first meet of its European tour.

The Dutch team won five of six events the first day and finished with eight victories in the 13 events of the two-day meet last weekend.

Lafayette's Donna deVarona was the outstanding American swimmer as she won the 400-meter individual medley and set a European record in the process.

Miss deVarona had set a world mark for the same event in the U.S. championships a week earlier.

Donna's world mark, set in Philadelphia, is 5:34.5.

HER TIME for the same event in Zwolle, Holland, was 5:38.6. However, it bettered the old European mark by more than 10 seconds.

The surpassed record was set in April of this year by H. Pechstein of East Germany. Her time was 5:49.0.

The first four finishers in the race all bettered the previous record.

Holland's Marianne Heemskerk was nearly two seconds behind Donna and finished with a 5:40.4. Judy DeNijs of Holland finished third in 5:42 and Becky Collins of Indianapolis was fourth with 5:42.4.

In the opening day of the meet last Friday, Carolyn House of Los Angeles was the lone American winner.

She captured the 220-meter freestyle in 2:22.1.

Miss deVarona finished second with a time of 2:24.2.

Donna also was a member of the U.S. relay team which won the 400-meter event.

She teamed with Carolyn Wood, Robyn Johnson and Chris Von Saltza. Their time was 4:20.9.

Post Office Moves Into First Place In WC Softball

The Post Office moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Walnut Creek Adult Softball league with a decisive 8-0 win over the previously unbeaten City Employees Saturday night.

The Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association Team No. 2 moved into second place with its third straight win Tuesday night.

The heavy-hitting club scored nine runs in the first inning and went on the record a 17-4 victory over the hapless Optimist Club. After losing a 5-3 decision to the City Employees in the opening game of the season, the WCYAA team had scored 18-13 and 20-17 wins prior to the Optimist Club game.

In another Tuesday game, the Lions Club buried the Kiwanis Club, 31-4.

The 31 runs represented the second highest game total for the Lions who scored 42 runs against the Optimists in their first game of the season.

San Miguel will attempt to halt the high-flying Post Office team tomorrow night at City Park in an important league game.

In the big game next week, the Kiwanis Club and the Optimist Club will battle for the right to vacate the league basement.

The eight teams play each other once during the regular season with the top four clubs meeting in a round-robin playoff.

S & G Ends Season With 5th Win In Bay Tourney

By HEC HANCOCK

Sports & Games defeated Alameda, 2-1, last Saturday in a game played at Kruzi Field in Alameda to close out its season, undefeated in Connie Mack play.

The win was the fifth straight in the Bay Area Connie Mack tournament for Sports & Games. The team clinched the top spot in the competition last week.

Following the same script they have used the past three weeks, Sports & Games rallied to score two runs in the top of the eighth inning to gain the decision in a tightly played contest.

The win brought their final season mark to 12 victories against but four defeats.

TRAILING by a single run going into the eighth, second baseman Ron Mueller led off with a double. Al Lakeman then singled, sending Mueller to third. Bud Nelson, right fielder, grounded out, the base runners holding.

Denny Tolt, first baseman, then was hit with a pitched ball, loading the bases after Bud Nelson grounded out.

Pitcher Bill Remy laid down a beauty of a bunt to score Mueller from third for the first run.

Tom Alamano, center fielder, followed suit, safely laying down another bunt, to score the deciding run.

It was the 13th consecutive game Alamano has been able to hit safely.

Bill Remy was the winning pitcher, limiting the Alameda team to only three hits.

Remy went the distance for the win, bringing his season total to nine wins against a single loss. He wound up the season with a very creditable ERA of 1.87.

MUELLER led the hitting attack, bashing out a double and triple in four trips to the plate.

Catcher Hal Stephenson picked up two hits in his three times at bat.

In all, the team hit for a very healthy season batting average of .301.

Claiming the team batting leadership was Alamano with a season average of .333.

In all, there were six on the club that ended up on the top side of .300.

Included in this group were: Bob Lang, outfielder, .314; Mueller, .314; Bob Gillham, third base, .309; Stephenson, .309; and Bob Morris, shortstop, .301.

Bob Nelson, first baseman who joined the club for the last four games, hit .600, but wasn't with the team long enough to qualify for team honors.

MANAGER Mel Alamano expressed the opinion that the club would have fared well in further Connie Mack competition. However, further play was ruled out because school will be starting shortly.

'Broadway on Ice' Begins Tonight at Walnut Creek Rink

Proceeds from the Theater on Ice production of "Broadway on Ice" scheduled for this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Walnut Creek Ice Rink will go into the skaters' fund to help amateur figure skaters from the Walnut Creek Winter Club who will travel to Montana for competition at the end of the year.

A cast of 150 skaters, amateurs and professionals, tiny-tots and adults will present a 2 1/2-hour ice extravaganza.

Five performances will be presented during the three-day run, Friday evening at 8:15 p.m., Saturday matinee at 2:30 p.m., Saturday evening at 8:15 p.m., Sunday matinee at 1:30 and again at 6:15 p.m.

Stereophonic sound from 32 individual speakers will surround the audiences with the wonderful music from the latest Broadway shows, including "Best Foot Forward," "Pal Joey," "My Fair Lady," "Camelot" and "Can-Can."

The choreography is done by Nancy Copeland Reeves, formerly from Berkeley.

Nancy started her skating career 13 years ago at Berkeley Ice Land. She was California State Pair Champion and later turned professional to join Ice Capades. The show is sponsored by the Walnut Creek Winter Club and is sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association.

SMC Baseball Field to Get A New Look

St. Mary's College has begun renovation of its baseball diamond with an eye to the future.

The entire field is being regraded while the infield is being torn up and the grass replanted.

In the past few years at St. Mary's, baseball has taken a back seat to basketball in the athletic program. But with 13 lettermen returning and an outstanding crop of freshmen scheduled to enter the college next month, Coach Andy Sloan is looking forward to a banner year in 1962.

The team, which finished with a 7-19 record last spring, lost only two lettermen because of graduation.

Next year's team will have only three seniors on the squad.

Diablo CC Invitational Is Sept. 2-3

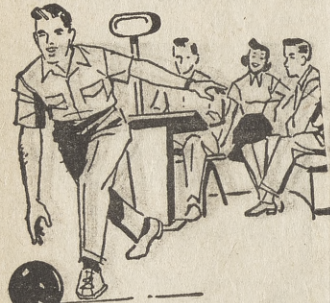

The Diablo Country Club will hold its Annual Invitational Best Ball Tournament September 2 and 3.

To date, 102 member-guest teams have entered the tournament.

The traditional Labor Day weekend tourney has rapidly developed into one of the Bay Area's finest tournaments.

The tournament will be played at 3 1/2 handicap with the first round being played Saturday, September 2.

Following the final round Sunday there will be dinner dancing and the awarding of prizes in Diablo's spacious ballroom.

Area Transit Tunnel Work in 4 Years

Orinda will be the scene of rapid transit tunnel construction in a little more than four years, and Orindans will be riding rapid transit trains in less than seven years, provided the proposed 1962 bond issue passes.

Residents of Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill will have to wait a little longer (1972) for the inauguration of the high speed system planned by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Of course, all this depends on 60 per cent voter approval of the $1,078,000,000 bond issue in five counties to finance 120 miles of transit lines, facilities and stations.

THE CONSULTING engineers' final report, submitted last week-end to transit directors in San Francisco, outlines the entire system.

It says the system will be in operation by 1972, but "significant portions of the system will be in full operation by 1968."

One significant portion scheduled or 1968 completion is "Phase I" of the Contra Costa line, including the trans-bay tube, San Francisco and Oakland lines, three miles of tunneling through the Berkeley hills, and the collector station in Orinda.

"Phase II" in Contra Costa will complete the entire job, all the way to Concord. Therefore it appears likely that Lafayette commuters will not have rapid transit service any earlier than Concord.

JACK GOULD, BARTD assistant chief engineer, said the tunnel through the Berkeley hills will cost some $50 millions, and will be about three miles long.

Tunnel work will begin probably in 1965, and will begin at both ends.

The Contra Costa entrance to the tunnel will be some 100 to 200 feet from the Orinda transit station.

It will be located in the northwest quadrant of the Orinda Crossroads. Each train will be switched to the opposite track and will run "backwards" returning to Oakland and San Francisco.

IN EFFECT, the Orinda station will be a temporary terminal station, although no special construction will be necessary for this purpose.

The Contra Costa commuter, faced with a decision whether to use his car or the transit, will have time and money factors to consider, said George MacDonald, BARTD spokesman.

Peak hour service will be as frequent as every 90 seconds.

The cost to the commuter given below is in 1960 money, enabling him to compare it with his present operating costs, which will also increase by the time the transit goes into operation.

Here is the situation for the Pleasant Hill commuter:

SOME 22 minutes to downtown Oakland (Broadway), costing 50 cents; 30 minutes to San Francisco (Market and Montgomery), costing 75 cents.

The Walnut Creek commuter: Some 19 minutes to downtown Oakland, costing 45 cents; 27 minutes to San Francisco, costing 70 cents.

SOME 15 minutes to downtown Lafayette commuter: Oakland, costing 35 cents; 23 minutes to San Francisco, costing 60 cents.

Orinda commuter: Some 10 minutes to downtown Oakland, costing 25 cents; 18 minutes to San Francisco, costing 55 cents.

The final report to BARTD directors was the result of two years of effort by the consulting firms of Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Quade and Douglass of New York and San Francisco; Tudor Eng-

Commuters Will Increase, 33,700 to 56,700

Some 33,700 persons leave Contra Costa County in the morning on the way to work, and return to this county in the evening, while the grand total for the five counties in the Bay Area Rapid Transit District is 168,000.

Contra Costa's 33,700 will increase to 56,700 by 1975, according to economic consultants in their final report to the district directors.

And the five counties' grand total will go up to 168,000.

OF THE five counties' present grand total of 168,000, San Francisco gets about 100,000, and Alameda County gets about 40,000.

These figures are contained in the reports submitted by Stone and Youngberg of San Francisco.

Financial impact of the proposed $1,078,000,000 rapid transit system on Bay Area taxpayers and public agencies was reviewed.

The proposed five-county transit system will cost a typical Bay Area home owner about $4 a year in 1963/64 at the start of construction.

Four dollars a year in 1963/64

at the start of construction.

NINETEEN dollars a year in 1967/68 when the system is more than 50 per cent completed.

A probable maximum of $26 a year in 1974/75 when the system is in full operation.

The report is an analysis of a plan of financing the capital costs of the proposed system which was prepared by Smith, Barney and Company, of New York, the district's financial consultant.

Under the Smith, Barney plan, the cost of the system would be financed through the sale of general obligation bonds, predicated on voter approval of the bonds at an election scheduled in June, 1962.

The bonds would be amortized over a 40-year period, with no payment scheduled on principal until after the system is fully completed in 1972.

IN ITS analysis of the plan, the Stone and Youngberg firm said the highest possible tax rate per $100 of assessed value would be 64.7 cents.

And this possible maximum would not be reached until 1974, 12 years after the bonds are approved.

According to the analysis, the tax rate in the five district counties would be 2.8 cents per $100 of assessed value in 1962/63, 9.4 cents in 1963/64, 23.4 cents in 1964/65 and 37.7 cents in 1965/66.

Stone and Youngberg said the tax rate would rise to its possible maximum of 64.7 cents in 1974/75 and then would begin to decline until the bonds are fully retired in the year 2002.

From this analysis, Stone and Youngberg computed the annual rapid transit tax bill for single-family residences of various values as follows:

1. $12,000 home, assessed at $3000: 1963/64, $3; 1971/72, $16; possible maximum, $19.
2. $16,000 home, assessed at $4000: 1963/64, $4; 1971/72, $22; possible maximum, $26.
3. $20,000 home, assessed at $5000: 1964/64, $5; 1971/72, $27; possible maximum, $32.
4. $24,000 home, assessed at $6000: 1963/64, $6; 1971/72, $33; possible maximum, $39.

CURRENT indications are that about one-half of the single-family residences in the Bay Area are assessed at between $3000 and $6000, indicating market values between $12,000 and $24,000, and that the median assessed valuation is probably near $4000, the report explains.

Stone and Youngberg noted that it had prepared two conservative projections of future increases in assessed valuations in the district.

For purposes of calculating tax bills, the report said, Stone and Youngberg used projections which "we believe are most likely to occur." For purposes of developing a bond amortization schedule, however, Smith, Barney used a set of even more conservative projections.

"The district's financial plan assumed a continuation to 1988/89 of the very conservative projections of future assessed valuations on which the construction schedule was based," the Stone and Youngberg report explained.

"WHILE the projections of valuations used is considered entirely appropriate for the purpose of engineering and financial planning, valuations are expected actually to be somewhat higher."

Other highlights of the Stone and Youngberg report included the following:

1. The 1960/61 average combined tax rate in the five counties of the district is $8.63 per $100 of assessed value. The maximum transit district tax rate of 64.7 cents would represent 7 1/2 per cent of that total.
2. Present tax-supported debt in the Bay Area is about 11.37 per cent of the total assessed valuation. Net total debt of the five counties probably will be about 25 to 26 per cent of total assessed valuation after all of the proposed rapid transit bonds are sold.
3. WHILE this increase in debt probably would not prevent any Bay Area public agency from selling bonds for needed projects, it might result in some increases in interest rates to be paid. The upper limit of such increases would be about one-half of one per cent, and "only a relatively few agencies would find their financing costs increased this much."
4. "All of these possible increases in the cost of public financing could be offset by other factors, many of which may be attributed to construction of a rapid transit system.

"If rapid transit and related improvements stimulate the growth of new taxable wealth faster than reflected in our projections, the adverse effect of increased debt on interest rates of bonds issued by local agencies may be offset within a few years."

"If bond buyers can be convinced of the need for and benefits to result from construction of this modern rapid transit system, the additional debt overlapping other public agencies may have little net effect on their financing costs."

A Versatile Educator ..

Not many educators act as superintendent, trouble-shooter, project leader and expert on school district unification—almost simultaneously—but Dr. Frank Bradford of Walnut Creek is one who does.

Bradford heads the special schools operated by the Contra Costa County Department of Education at Juvenile Hall for Boys' Rehabilitation Center and five training centers for mentally retarded children at various localities in the county.

As administrative consultant—Bradford's title is director of administrative services—he meets frequently with the superintendents of Walnut Creek, Moraga, Danville, Alamo and Rodeo School Districts to help solve administrative problems.

THESE SERVICES, Bradford recently reported to the Contra Costa County Board of Education, will be expanded to other districts due to the re-assignment of Dr. Harold Weatherbe to the administrative staff.

An example of such services is the designation of Weatherbe to assist the San Ramon School District during its transition from a small rural school to a district with enrollment of 500 children a year or so hence as a result of the development of San Ramon Village.

Bradford's report to the board lists projects under his supervision, among which are machine perpetuity and other positions.

Bradford also performs liaison service between the various Bay Area colleges and universities and the school districts in establishing extension courses which meet the needs of teachers.

Bradford told the county board that a series of two-hour meetings for school board members will be introduced this fall, with the cooperation of the Contra Costa County School Boards Association and the University of California.

Dr. John Ross of the university is assisting with the series, which will cover the responsibilities of board members.

HIRING and in-service training of school personnel are other matters with which Bradford assists.

For instance, the department has aided school districts in screening candidates for the superintendent position.

Carlisle in Army Training

Army Specialist Four James G. Carlisle, son of W. B. Carlisle, 1278 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, participated in Exercise Lava Plains, a joint Army-Air Force field training exercise at the Yakima (Wash.) Firing Center.

Specialist Carlisle, a clerk in the 30th Artillery's Headquarters Battery at Fort Lewis, Wash., entered the Army in January, 1959 and was last stationed at Fort Ord.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Acalanes High School.

Arson Suspects Are Transferred

Two boys who have admitted setting a fire at the northgate entrance to Mt. Diablo Park, during the height of the battle against other bigger fires, have been transferred to Marin County jurisdiction.

They are Norman Loring Ackley, Jr., of Kentfield, and Andrew Joseph Carrino of San Rafael.

Library Book Criticized—Then What?

What should the high school do when it receives a complaint that a book from the school library is smutty, subversive or sacrilegious? The County Board of Education had an opportunity to hear some answers from school librarians at its meeting last week.

What the school does at the moment is hardly more important than what it could have done in the past in committing to writing its policies on book selection and clearly defining responsibility, believes the Contra Costa Council of Secondary School Librarians.

AS SUMMARIZED by Library Service Consultant Walter Harris, the council recommends that to avoid "book burning" and to maintain the confidence of the community the school district must have a written statement of policy, a clear definition of responsibility for book selection and written criteria.

Actual selection should be delegated to the librarian and staff and teachers. The final selection for the library in his building should rest with the principal, who is most familiar with the course of study, teaching methods and the characteristics of the student population.

All books, including gifts to the school library, are to be judged for suitability for student reading at various levels, appropriateness to age and maturity of students, enrichment of the library collection and the curriculum, suitability of format, reliability of the book and author and the relation of the book to the needs of the school.

A book is to be excluded, the council policy states, if it is "offensive to good taste or contrary to moral and ethical standards of the community" and if it presents only one side of a controversial subject.

A BALANCE should be sought where books on philosophies of government are concerned, so that the student may be informed and not propagandized.

When the gauntlet is down, the council recommends that a complaint made by a parent, other citizen or teacher be stated in writing to the principal.

The book may or may not be removed from the shelf while under investigation, as the school sees fit.

A review committee appointed by the principal or superintendent should include the former, a librarian, a department head and three faculty members who teach the subject with which the book deals, or the district library consultant.

A DISTRICT review committee might be similarly constituted but with a board member and citizens of the community sitting with representatives of the district educational program and library system.

If the complainant is a teacher, he should join in the review.

According to the finding of the review committee, the disputed book should (1) be removed from the shelves, (2) its use restricted or (3) its free use continued.

Plant Specifically With Autumn Colors in Mind

PLANT SPECIFICALLY—22 dc Try these same specimens in coastal gardens, however, and you'll see why color depends on where you live.

You'll find it aplenty in foothill gardens and moderately in the Central Valley. But in fog belt gardens along the coast, you have to scratch for it.

Wherever your home, however, it's a good idea to plan specially for fall, not only for fall foliage color, but also for that which comes from the berried shrubs and from bedding plants.

WITH THIS in mind, the California Association of Nurserymen reminds us that fall is not so very far away.

Our most spectacular displays, says a CAN memo, come from the brilliant splashes of foliage which certain trees give us.

You see this often in the Mother Lode where poplars, locust and scarlet oak color up so vividly.

BEST BETS for foliage color along the coast, and obviously they are just as good or better inland, are sweet gum, maiden-hair tree and Chinese pistache.

Scarlet oak will show occasional bursts of color in coastal gardens and flowering Japanese cherries turn vivid where few others will.

These five, or four if you exclude scarlet oak as a sure thing, will give you a nice range of fall color: the lovely yellow of maiden-hair tree, the richly mixed reds and yellows of sweet gum and flowering cherry, the bright reds for scarlet oak and Chinese pistache.

OF THE berried shrubs, none offers more vivid color than pyracantha. Improvement of this species has been a steady thing over the years with larger berries the prime goal of every hybridist. Orange berried pyracanthas usually bloom first and are followed closely by the reds. Cotoneaster and barberry also offer good fall berries.

AS THE BLUE Ribbon lamb she recently sold at the Junior Livestock Auction in Antioch recently is petite Cynthia Dyer-Bennett of 154 Hillcroft Way, Walnut Creek. Mike Giles, also of Walnut Creek, collected blue ribbons on all four of his lambs and placed third in showmanship. Presenting the youngsters with checks is Cecil Miller, assistant manager, Bank of America, Walnut Creek. Youngsters like these will demonstrate their projects and their abilities this weekend at Broadway Shopping Center in honor of Back to School Days.

Local Queen Finalists Named

Candidates in the current 40th 8 Society's benefit program have now been qualified and are going into the final stretch.

These charming working girls selected from business firms throughout Contra Costa County are campaigning with donation tickets to raise funds for handicapped children and to aid student nurses.

The most industrious working girl will be crowned Queen of Industry at the Coronation Show and Ball to be held September 2, at the Elks Club ballroom in Concord.

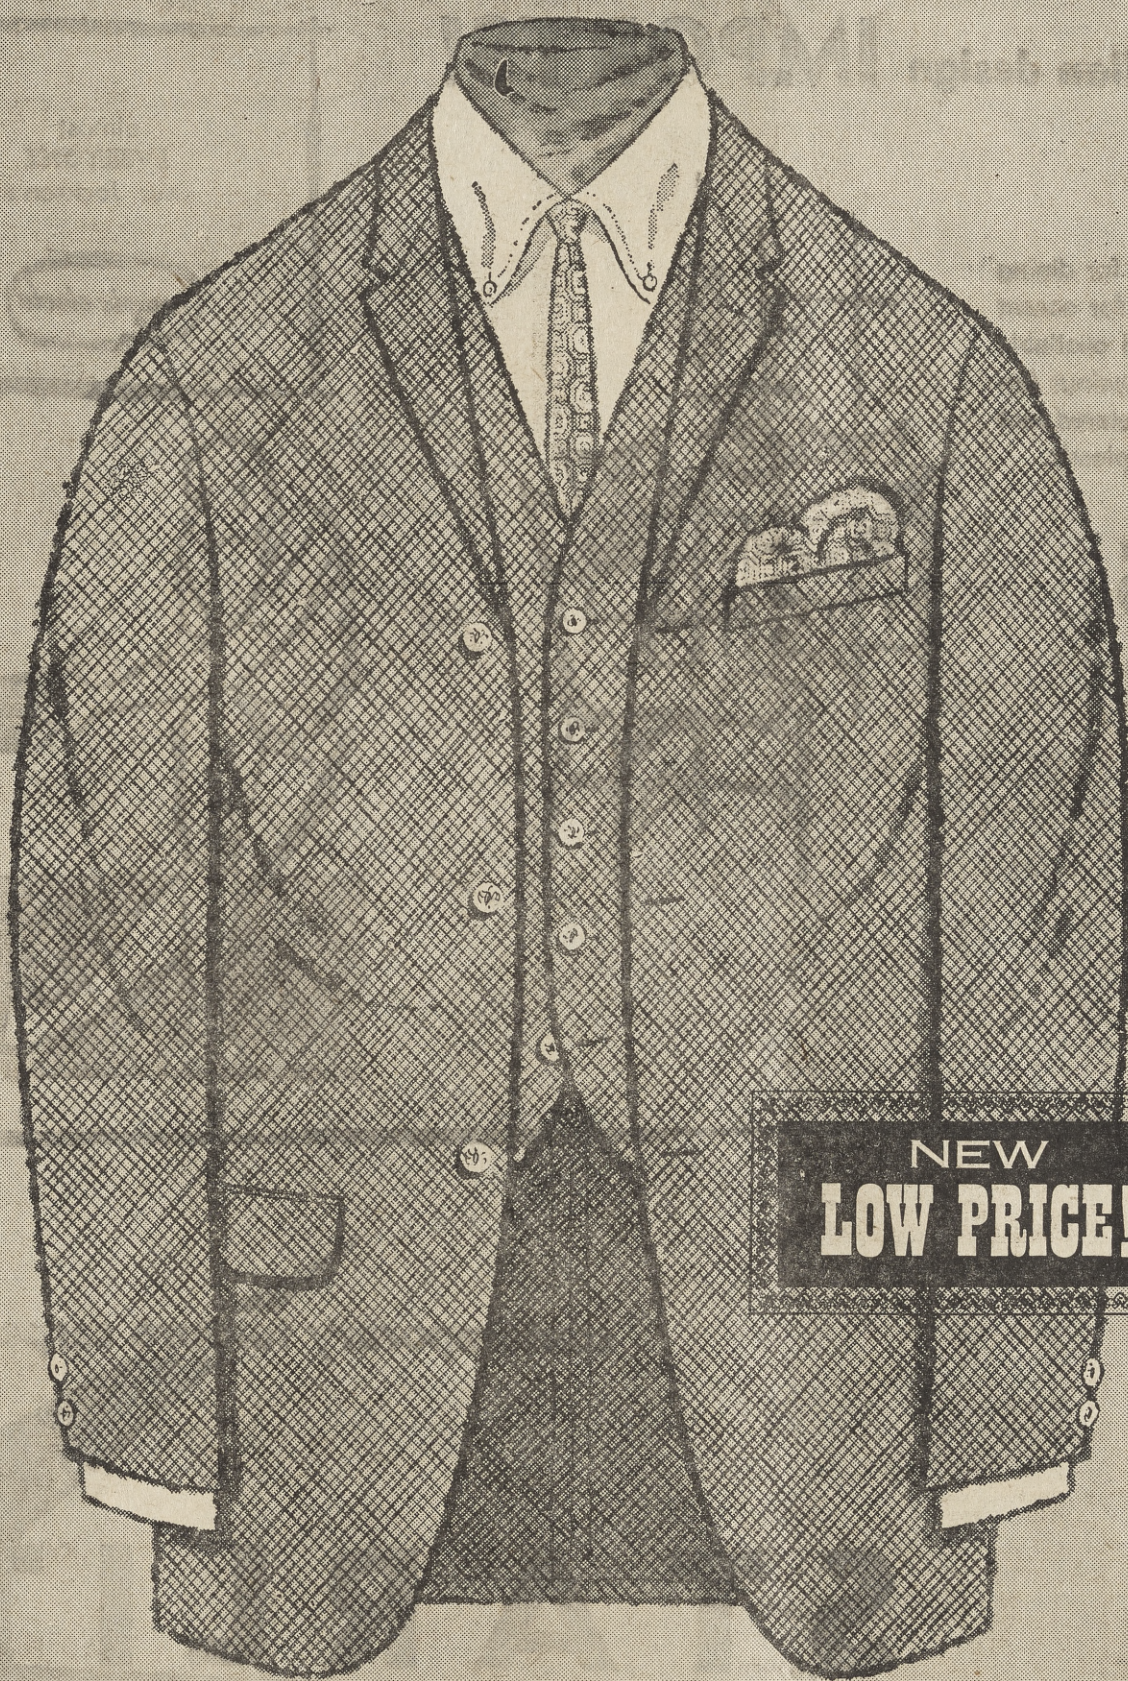

"WE ARE extremely proud of our Queen of Industry candidates," said Clif Gary, chairman, "as they are making it possible, through their unselfish efforts, for our organization to continue with our nurses scholarships and our various child welfare activities."

Local candidates going into the final stretch are: Sandra Schultz of Lafayette Sea Food Grotto; Sandy Rolph, Alamo Beauty Shop; Norma Wall, Alamo Coffee Shop; Frieda Taylor, Monument Bowl, Pleasant Hill; Patti Lane, Pacific Plan, Pleasant Hill.
